DELEGATES REACHED JOURNEY'S ZENITH

Representatives of Imperial Press Conference Arrived in Victoria Yesterday, Completing Tour Across Canada—Party of 120 Journalists Welcomed by Officials

BANQUET IS TENDERED VISITORS AT THE EMPRESS

Imperial Unity Forms Keynote of the Speeches at Lieut.-Gov. Prior's Function in Honor of Imperial Press Delegates—Viscount Burnham Among Speakers

Greeted by typical Victoria sunshine, close to one hundred delegates to the Imperial Press Conference and their wives reached the city yesterday, completing the last lap in their transcontinental tour.

Leaving the Vancouver boat shortly after 3 o'clock, the delegates were escorted to the Empress Hotel by a reception committee, headed by Mayor Robert J. Porter and Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, representing the Provincial Government. Their stay at the hotel was limited to only a few minutes, as at 3:45 they were whisked away by motor car on a tour of the picturesque Saanich Peninsula, the objective being the beautiful sunken gardens of Mr. R. P. Butchart at "Benvenuto," near Brentwood.

Returning to the city at 7 o'clock, the visitors prepared for the Lieut.-Governor's banquet, held in the Empress Hotel ballroom, commencing at 8:30. Among the speakers were the Lieut.-Governor, Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, representing the Provincial Government; Viscount Burnham, president of the Empire Press Union; Colonel Sir Arthur Holbrook, M.P.; Mr. N. Levi, of South Africa, and Mr. F. Crosbie Roles, of Ceylon. Most of the speeches followed Imperial themes.

All the delegates seemed to be keenly impressed with Victoria last night. For many of them this is the initial visit to the Pacific Coast and the journey has been a welcome revelation to them. Today they will be given an opportunity of seeing something more of the Island's charm when they are taken on a motor drive over the Malahat and into the Cowichan Valley as far as Duncan, which will be reached by noon. Here luncheon will be served and the party will commence the return trip at 4:30, reaching Victoria at 7 o'clock.

An informal Canadian Club dinner will be held this evening at the Empress Hotel, at which Mr. David Davies, of Swansea, Wales, and one of the conference leaders, will be the speaker. His subject is announced as "The Genius of Our Race." Mr. John Cochrane will preside. Members of the Women's Canadian Club will be admitted to the ballroom at 9 o'clock. The dinner is to commence at 8:30.

Relaxation will be the order of the day tomorrow and the delegates will make the most of their opportunity of resting after a hard week of constant activity. There will be a reception for the ladies of the party at Government House, commencing at 4 o'clock, and Lieut.-Governor Prior last night extended an invitation to all members of the party to have tea at Government House. Some of the delegates intend to play golf at the Oak Bay and Colwood links, and some private motoring parties are being arranged as well. The plan is to allow the delegates every opportunity of seeing as much of Victoria and its surroundings as the limited time of their visit will permit.

The party will commence the return tour tomorrow night, leaving by the midnight boat for Vancouver.

The Governor's Banquet

Recognition that Canada, and particularly British Columbia, stands four-square behind any sound, progressive movement to bind together more solidly than ever the units composing the chain of British Dominions with the Motherland, was voiced last night by speakers at the Lieutenant-Governor's banquet to the Imperial Press delegates in the Empress Hotel ballroom.

About 300 persons, representing the official life of the Province, as well as a large section of the conference delegates, attended the function, which was marked by enthusiasm at every stage.

The Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Prior entered the ballroom at 8:30, followed by Viscount Burnham and Lady Burnham. As they entered, the Empress orchestra, under Prof. Lou Turner, struck up the strains of the National Anthem. The room was draped with British flags, Col. Prior took his place at the head of the speakers' table at the east end of the hall. The banquet was opened with prayers by the Right Rev. Bishop Macdonald.

Lieutenant-Governor Col. the Hon. R. G. Prior presided and was the first speaker. He officially welcomed the delegates to the Province of British Columbia, and touched upon some of the points which he believed should be accepted as guiding principles in the upbuilding of the Empire.

He referred to the Imperial Press party as the most important delegation that had ever visited Canada, representing as it did many of the great newspapers which had exercised a strong influence in the moulding of the Empire's destinies.

Greets Delegates

"We in the West were gratified when we learnt that this great conference was to be held in Canada, and we hailed with delight the news that you would make a tour to the Pacific slope," said Col. Prior. "It would be invidious perhaps to single out any delegates for whose presence we take particular interest, but I may say that we view the presence here of the representatives of newspapers from the many distant outposts of the Empire as of tremendous importance. The conditions prevailing in the various Dominions are probably more similar to one another than the circumstances governing the Motherland. There is perhaps a more mutual relationship between the Dominions, and for that reason a meeting of this kind of the newspapermen from the many Dominions is of special value in that it will enable them to view their own problems and the problems of the whole collection of British Dominions in a broader light than has hitherto been possible.

"I hope that you will be able to return as soon and as often to this Province as it is possible," continued the Lieutenant-Governor. "After all, a few minutes of personal interview, a few hours of personal contact, are far more valuable than a month of correspondence."

He proposed that in furthering the cause of Imperial relationship and in obtaining a clearer grasp of the affairs of the Empire, Ministers of the Imperial Cabinet should pay more frequent visits to the Dominions than had been customary in the past. This proposal met with prolonged applause.

He pointed to the need for British capital in the development of Canada's industries. "This is essentially a British country, and it is our intense desire to keep it British," he declared. "Capital from any source has in the past been welcome as a means of developing our resources, but I feel that I am stating the view of every true Canadian when I say that the British pound sterling is far more valuable to us than the American equivalent in dollars. Men from the Motherland must come here to appreciate the possibilities of this country.

Need All-Red Cable

The speaker also made a plea for establishment of an all-British cable service as a means of cementing imperial sentiment throughout the Empire. "Unfortunately much of the news published in Canada is tinged by American opinion," he said. "Do not construe that remark as being derogatory to the Americans, for I have the highest admiration for them. But I admire our own British people more and we keenly desire that the British viewpoint be given in preference to the American."

Attorney-General and Acting premier J. W. de B. Farris proposed the toast to "Our Guests," and in his speech dwelt upon the influence of the events of the past few years in

WOMAN DEFRAUDED BY BOGUS COLLECTOR

PITTSBURG, Aug. 27.—Numerous newly-enfranchised Allegheny county women have been defrauded by a bogus tax collector, who went into action yesterday just as soon as the proclamation was signed declaring woman suffrage to be law.

He appeared at the women's homes, informed them that they must pay him a poll tax if they wished to vote in the November election, collected the money, handed them a receipt and disappeared.

The police are looking for him.

NO RELEASE IN SIGHT FOR STRIKE LEADERS

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—Although the Winnipeg labor leaders on their return to the West after conferring with Hon. G. D. Robertson and Hon. Hugh Guthrie expressed the hope that their comrades would soon be released, both of these ministers stated to the Canadian Press today that there were no new developments in this matter.

The question, it was understood, had not been brought before the full cabinet.

MAKING APPEALS FOR LORD MAYOR

Many Messages Are Sent From Different Sources to Premier Lloyd George at Lucerne—T. M. Healy's Charge

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Premier Lloyd George at Lucerne, is being bombarded with appeals in behalf of Lord Mayor MacSweeney of Cork, who is on a hunger strike in prison here. The general tenor of the appeals is that a show of clemency in this case will open the gate for reconciliation with Ireland, while a refusal would have the opposite effect.

A strongly worded letter from James O'Grady, member of the House of Commons, also has been received. "The test of your sincerity in desiring a reconciliation is under way," says O'Grady's letter. "Release MacSweeney. If you refuse this, then be damned to you and your Government."

Timothy M. Healy, a former member of Parliament, in a letter to the Dublin press, angrily accuses Premier Lloyd George of overriding the King's desire to show clemency in the MacSweeney case. He declares that the Premier "by closing the gates of mercy has made a more perverse, ignorant and lawless invasion of the authority of the crown in Ireland than any man in arms against it."

Mayor MacSweeney's condition was unchanged tonight. He was very weak, and one of his relatives remained constantly at his bedside.

Bishop Daniel Cohalan, of Cork, has written a strong appeal to The London Times, urging the release of Lord Mayor MacSweeney of Cork, saying his imprisonment offends all sense of justice.

"The offence charged to the Lord Mayor has no substance," says the Bishop's letter.

"The sentence has no moral sanction, and is a manifest injustice.

"It is now a familiar and true expression that government in Ireland is government by imprisonment, by deportation, by arson and by murder," he concluded.

CLERKS BURNED IN TWO STORES

Incendiarism at Dundalk Results in Death of Two Girls and One Man—Stores Were Owned by Unionists

THREE DEATHS CAUSED BY BELFAST RIOTS

Measure of Quiet Restored in City Yesterday Morning—Sinn Feiners Attack Military Lorry and Police Barracks

DUNDALK, Aug. 27.—Two salesgirls and one salesman were burned to death in stores of two Protestant Unionist tradesmen in Dundalk early today. The buildings were set on fire. The homes of the owners of the stores were burned.

The fire spread to adjacent property, including the Ulster Bank, which was damaged. The assertion is made that the fires were started in reprisal for the destruction of property of Catholics in Lisburn and Belfast.

BELFAST, Aug. 27.—Ethel Burroughs, who was shot during Wednesday's disturbances, died last night, making the third death as the result of this affair.

A party of uniformed men today drove into Shanagolden, County Limerick, and fired shots, killing John Haynes, an old age pensioner.

DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—A military lorry was attacked today at Cashermore, near Midleton, County Cork. The driver of the lorry was killed and an officer and two privates were wounded.

CORK, Aug. 27.—A fierce, though brief, battle was fought early this morning at Clonakilty, a seaport southwest of Cork, when 50 men attacked a small garrison in the police barracks. The attackers poured a heavy rifle fire into the building, and one bomb was thrown. The police returned a steady fire, and the raiders were forced to withdraw. No casualties were reported.

BELFAST, Aug. 27.—The disorders in Belfast ceased after 2 o'clock this morning and a portion of the military was withdrawn from the streets, special constables patrolling the thoroughfares.

Last night's casualties included one person killed and a considerable number wounded.

The militia had to fire into Newtown Ards Road, where snipers fired on the soldiers in the darkness.

Enormous damage was done by fires, of which there were twenty between 6 o'clock last evening and 1:30 o'clock this morning.

DANZIG ROUTE IS FULLY OPENED

American Steamer Carrying Munitions Gets Away From Antwerp—Allied War Vessels Arriving at Baltic Port

ANTWERP, Aug. 27.—The American steamer Warszawa, with munitions for Poland, left today for Danzig. A recent Brussels dispatch quoted The National Belge as saying the Antwerp dock workers had refused to continue loading munitions aboard the Warszawa.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—News was received from Allied sources in Danzig today to the effect that the Poles who recently returned to Danzig from the United States, but were not permitted to land, have been allowed to disembark and proceed to their destination.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—A squadron of four small British armored cruisers, accompanied by several auxiliary vessels, has arrived and anchored in Danzig today. One of the cruisers flies the flag of the British Admiralty. It is said that there are two other British warships and two French armored cruisers there.

SAYS JAPAN FACES COMPLETE ISOLATION

TOKIO, Aug. 26.—Japan is now isolated from the rest of the world, and anti-Japanese agitation in the Pacific States of America and similar movements in China, Siberia and Korea are making her position difficult, Professor Masaharu Anesaki, former lecturer of Harvard University, who bears a reputation for progressiveness, is quoted as saying in an interview in Nichi Nichi.

Professor Anesaki held that the Japanese militarists were responsible for the situation and said that even in England and France there were not a few who bore ill-feeling toward Japan.

The militarists by their bold actions and utterances during the war have greatly irritated certain nations, Professor Anesaki is quoted.

Manitoba Bush Fire Spreads

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Fanned by a 17-mile southeast wind, four bush fires north of Netley are steadily driving toward Matlock Beach, on Lake Winnipeg, until today at noon one was reported to be 200 yards from the nearest cottage. There are two fires on each side of the Canadian Pacific Railway

BOLSHEVIK CANNON ON PRUSSIAN SOIL FIRING UPON POLES

Both Batteries and Machine Guns Thus Posted Are Engaged—Polish Troops Make Further Advances, Hemming in Russian Detachments and Capturing Many Prisoners

REACH AUGUSTOWO EAST OF PRUSSIA

Red Troops Have Lost Morale and Give Way Easily Before Attacks—Those in Retreat Have Good Defensive Ground Near Grodno—Peace Negotiations Failing

PARIS, Aug. 27.—Bolsheviki batteries stationed on German soil have fired on Polish troops, said a Polish official communication yesterday. The statement follows:

"On the northern front, in the sectors opposed by the first and fifth armies, the situation is unchanged. During the process of cleaning up territory between Mlawa and Ciechanow, we made 3,000 prisoners, stragglers from remains of the Bolsheviki troops.

"In the centre of the front there remain a few thousand Russian troops, who are retreating toward the German frontier, fighting desperately.

"In this sector we noted that our troops were fired upon from batteries and from machine guns which the Bolsheviki troops had installed in German territory.

"On the Kolno-Myszyniec road we captured six cannon and ten machine guns. In Kobryn Pass we took 1,100 prisoners, including the full staff of the Bolsheviki thirty-seventh division, with four cannon and twelve machine guns.

"On the southern front, east of Leonpol, bitter fighting is in progress."

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The Poles continue to advance along the East Prussian frontier. Notwithstanding all their efforts, the Red commanders have failed to instill in the Bolsheviki troops enough courage or energy to resist the Poles, who, after a few hours of almost desultory fighting, took possession of the Ossovetz forts, opened a passage across the Bobr marshes and reached the Augustowo lakes east of the East Prussian frontier, thus gaining command of the whole northeastern side of that frontier as far as Augustowo.

The Reds, driven back on the line of Augustowo-Grodno, are in a good defensive position on account of the forests and marshes which cover it. Consequently it is difficult for the Poles to attack frontally, owing to the nature of the ground and the fact that the flanks of the enemy rest on the west on the German frontier and on the east the Niemen River. The Soviet forces are concentrating with the object of stopping the Poles from extending their line eastward.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The Bolsheviki are making a desperate stand at Grodno, according to a statement of the Foreign Ministry today, which added that all available Bolsheviki troops are being concentrated there and a great battle is expected shortly.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The first day of mobilization of the soviet workers of Petrograd for the struggle against the Poles and General Wrangel produced three-quarters of the required number, says a wireless message from Moscow today. In Moscow, the best workers also were mobilized.

Peace Negotiations

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Premier Witos has notified the Russian Soviet Government by wireless that the Polish victory has produced no change in the intentions of the Government of Poland, says a Warsaw dispatch to The London Times.

The Premier added that instructions to the Polish peace delegation at Minsk have not been changed and that the Poles desire only an honorable peace.

WARSAW, Aug. 27.—The president of the Polish delegation at Minsk on August 19 laid down the following as Poland's principal conditions for peace. Political and economic integrity, and complete sovereignty and independence for Poland within her frontiers are indispensable for her economic and political development. Guarantees are asked that Russia will not interfere with the internal questions of Poland.

The text of the declaration was forwarded to Warsaw from Minsk, August 22, but only reached Warsaw August 26.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The following dispatch from Lucerne was received by The London Times:

"Premier Lloyd George has received the Soviet note, and the impression created is not a satisfactory one. The tone of the communication is considered to be one of studied impertinence. The note will be the subject of views between London, Paris and Rome.

"It is expected that Premier Lloyd George will remain here another week."

GRANDSONS ENRICHED BY VANDERBILT WILL

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Marquis of Blandford and Lord Ivor Churchill have been left $1,000,000 each by their grandfather, William K. Vanderbilt, it became known tonight, when a summary of Mr. Vanderbilt's will was made public. Both are sons of the Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Consuelo Vanderbilt.

To carry out a provision of the settlement made on the marriage of the Duchess of Marlborough, there is left to the trustees $2,500,000 with interest at 4 per cent.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Harold S. Vanderbilt, sons, were left $2,500,000 each in cash or securities, and to them as trustees for William K. Vanderbilt III., his grandson, he left another $1,000,000.

PEOPLE SUFFER IN PETROGRAD

Starvation and Lack of Fuel Are Blessings Conferred on Population by Bolsheviki—Commissioners Privileged

TOKIO, Aug. 23.—Letters received here from Petrograd tell of much suffering caused by a scarcity of fuel.

Women of culture it was related, are happy to obtain work as seamstresses to the wives of the Bolsheviki commissaries, where, working long hours they are able to earn barely enough for food and shelter.

The whole population is suffering keenly from malnutrition, the reports said, many people being in such a weakened condition that their finger nails were dropping off.

The price of butter is reported to be 6,000 roubles a pound. Bread is priced at 300 roubles, while 1,000 roubles a pound is demanded for meat.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 27—Advices from Petrograd to The Berlingske Tidende state that conditions in that city are becoming critical and that the fall of the Soviet Government appears imminent. Information from the front, together with the desperate economic situation, is believed to be responsible for the discontent. Many shops have been closed and valuables seized. It is stated that the Bolsheviki have punished demonstrators by shooting. Excitement within the garrison is increasing.

Japan and United States

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—According to The Nichi Nichi, Japan plans to send an unofficial commissioner to the United States to facilitate mutual understanding and improve relations between Japan and the United States, by delivery of public lectures and other means.

Irish Longshoremen Block British Ships

Suddenly Leave Their Work on Several Liners at New York, With Idea of Coercing the British Authorities in MacSweeney and Mannix Cases—Women Start Trouble

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Elated by their tie-up of virtually every British ship in New York, the 24,000 longshoremen who suddenly quit work today expect to spread their walkout to every port in the United States, in the hope of forcing Great Britain to release from jail Terence MacSweeney, Lord Mayor of Cork, and permit Archbishop Mannix to land on Irish soil. The women pickets who inspired the unexpected walkout, and the marine firemen, water tenders and oilers who joined them, feel the same way. They are not going back to work on British ships, they said, until Great Britain meets their wishes.

Irish sympathizers working on American, French and Belgian steamships also quit work during the whirlwind campaign the strikers waged along the North River.

A little band of women pickets inspired the strike during the lunch hour. They stationed themselves outside the White Star Line pier to await the arrival of the Baltic, from which Archbishop Mannix was removed by a British naval vessel.

The Archbishop was not permitted to land in Ireland, but was taken to England, and longshoremen said they resented this.

When the Baltic docked the women held up a placard reading:

"When Mannix goes to Ireland, let the Baltic leave New York," and also displayed other signs.

During the lunch hour the longshoremen who had started work on the Baltic decided not to go back, and, accompanied by the women pickets, they went into the holds of the other nearby liners, Olympic, Canopic and Celtic, where they quickly induced hundreds of other longshoremen to join the walkout.

Forming outside the White Star pier, inside of which officials were calling for police reserves, the strikers began a parade, engulfing hundreds of longshoremen at the docks of the Cunard, Anchor and other British lines, and leaving in its wake more than a dozen steamships with loading schedules disrupted.

A five minute ovation greeted 100 striking members of the Baltic's crew when they marched into a theatre during a mass meeting protesting MacSweeney's imprisonment. The gathering, which numbered nearly four thousand, was addressed by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the American commission on Irish independence, and Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic."

Walsh said that 3,000 more men would quit work on British shipping in the fight for Ireland. "With the cold-blooded assassination of Terence MacSweeney will come about the downfall of England," said Walsh. "Lloyd George will be responsible for this assassination."

"MacSweeney does not want to die," said de Valera, "but he knows that on his fortitude and determination more depends for Ireland than the fate of an army corps. If he dies, it will not be a suicide, as the British contend, but he will die as a soldier in battle, and his death will be on the heads of the enemy."

"England may manacle MacSweeney's body," continued De Valera, "but his spirit will triumph over English brute force, and will make Ireland's cause triumphant, because he will die if he does not get his liberty. The spirit of Ireland will still be alive when England's brute force is dead."

A resolution, which was adopted, congratulated MacSweeney "on his opportunity to win a moral victory that would be heard around the world."

Young Mine Workers Mostly Favor Strike

Lads Are Said by English Papers to Be Actuated Largely by Wish for Holiday—Aliens Also Said to Be Voting—Balloting Heavily in Support of Cessation

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The threatened strike of coal miners engrosses the attention of the newspapers and the public. The balloting in South Wales on the question of whether the men shall strike has virtually been concluded.

The result of the balloting as announced early today is as follows: In favor of striking, 143,471; against striking, 42,013. This gives considerably more than a two-thirds majority in the South Wales district in favor of the men ceasing work.

The newspapers point out that boy employees in the mines, whose ages range from 14 to 18, are voting heavily in favor of a strike. According to The Daily Mail they are believed to cast seven out of every ten of the votes recorded in the Scottish coal fields.

"The lads," says The Daily Mail, "are chiefly influenced by the idea of getting a holiday." The oldest men, the newspapers say, are more reluctant to afflict the country with a strike. That is especially true of the English miners.

It is said that the strike vote is being swelled by thousands of alien voters, including Russian communists.

Appeal for mediation will be made next week at the meeting in London by the "Triple Alliance." The Transport Workers will take the initiative in this. Should it fail to achieve a settlement, the Trades Union Congress, which will meet at Portsmouth September 6, will discuss the situation from the point of view of the other unions which would be affected by a general industrial paralysis resulting from a strike in the coal fields.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Sir Thomas Fisher, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, fears the effect of the coal strike would be the loss to England of much Canadian wheat through inability from shipping difficulties to lift cargoes before the Great Lakes freeze up.

BOLSHEVIK FORCE RETAKES RESHT

Drives Out Persian Cossacks, Who Retreat Along Kazvin Road—Mesopotamia Situation Complicated by Reverse

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Resht was recaptured when heavy Bolsheviki reinforcements, which had landed at Enzeli from Baku Wednesday night, drove back the Persian Cossacks, says the Tehéran correspondent of The London Times in a message sent Thursday.

The Cossacks are reported to be retreating along the Resht-Kazvin road.

This reverse of the Persians, adds the correspondent, complicates the situation produced by the interruption of British communications in Mesopotamia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 27.—Sultan Mohammed VI., must personally lead the Turkish troops against the Turkish Nationalists in Anatolia to prevent dissolution of the Empire, it has been decided at a special cabinet meeting.

The Allies apparently are willing to permit organization of a Turkish force to co-operate with the Greeks in attacking Mustapha Kemal's armies under conditions guaranteeing them against desertions to the Nationalists.

Mustapha Kemal, acording to reports, has taken the Supreme Court of the Nationalist Government from Angora to Sivas, where preparations are being made to receive the Government should impending military movement threaten the former city.

MR. BOWSER TALKS ON PEACE RIVER

Opposition Leader, as Result of Tour, Urges Provision of Railway Communication With Great District in North

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 27.—After an extended tour of the Peace River Country, W. J. Bowser, K.C., M.P.P., leader of the Conservative party in B.C., reached the city Thursday night. He has come back, he says, convinced of the urgent need of extending railroad communication from Prince George northward and eastward so as to tap the great area of country which is coming into its own, and which, by force of circumstances, has now to look to Edmonton for its main road to the outside world.

Mr. Bowser was accompanied by Mr. H. M. Grahame, vice-president of the provincial Conservative party, and during the weeks they spent in the north they visited many settlements, both in B.C. and on the Alberta side of the boundary.

"I have come to the conclusion, after thorough investigation, that there is a great stretch of country for 400 miles east of the present boundary of British Columbia in the northern part of the province, which ought to belong to B.C. The people there are united in their wish to look west rather than east for their outlet. All their thoughts turn towards the day when B.C. will provide a railway by which they may be able to ship their produce to Vancouver and Prince Rupert," he said.

"I am extremely glad," he added, "that the Vancouver Board of Trade is planning an excursion into that territory. The members will be able to judge for themselves of the opinion I have expressed that there is urgent need for a direct railway between the heart of B.C. and the great farming country to the north. If Vancouver wishes the big trade and interchange of produce with the Peace River block, business men here cannot do better than go and see conditions for themselves."

Mr. Bowser explained that his journey was undertaken primarily for the purpose of estimating the requirements of that section of the country and to gauge the tonnage which might be expected to support a railway from Prince George to tap the district lying in the north-east corner of British Columbia and along the northwest boundray of Alberta.

At a joint meeting with Hon. John Oliver at Rolla, Mr. Bowser suggested that the constitution of the province should be amended so as to give the Peace River district its own member in the Provincial House, a suggestion, which he says, met with very hearty support, as the settlers there have little in common with the Prince George area to the south.

LABOR FEDERATION WANTS RECOGNITION

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 27. — At the concluding session of the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Labor, it was decided to hold the next convention in Montreal. The opinion was expressed that as this is the only national organization of the kind in the Dominion, the Canadian Federation of Labor should be supported by the Federal Department of Labor, and this met with the approval of the delegates generally.

The Federation is in a sound financial position, according to the report of the auditors.

MANY MEN KILLED IN CHILEAN MUTINIES

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 26.—Reports through official channels from the Peruvian frontier state that serious mutinies, resulting in the killing of a number of persons, have occurred within the last few days among 15,000 Chilean troops concentrated in Tacna and Arica.

The report states that the troops are clamoring to return to their homes. Machine guns were being used during the disturbances, and many were killed or wounded, the advices state.

VANCOUVER EX-MAYOR ACCUSED OF THEFT

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27.—Former Mayor T. S. Baxter was arrested yesterday by the city police, charged with assault and theft. The police report says that Mr. Baxter had a dispute with Mrs. N. J. Sterner, 5530 Carleton Street, over the sale of furniture, and yesterday morning entered her home and forcibly removed a chair.

Mrs. Sterner's husband is employed as a steward by the C. P. R. and was away from home at the time. Mr. Baxter was released on $500 bail and will appear in the South Vancouver police court Tuesday morning.

OLD PROPAGANDA MUST BE CHANGED

Ontario Prohibition Workers Find That Referendum Will Require Answer "Yes" Instead of "No" as Formerly

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—Part of the education propaganda used in previous temperance campaigns in Ontario will have to be discarded, according to one prominent Ottawa temperance worker who, in past campaigns, urged his friends to vote four times "no" to secure a dry Ontario.

Under the list of modifications laid down by the chief electoral officer, for the taking of a plebiscite under the Canada Temperance Act, and contained in his instructions for the taking of the vote, there is included a sample ballot. This reads as follows:

Shall the importation or bringing of intoxicating liquors into the Province be forbidden?—No.

Shall the importation or bringing of intoxicating liquors into the Province be forbidden?—Yes.

In order to vote against further importation of liquor into any province it is pointed out by temperance workers here that instead of voting "No" as in previous campaigns, the voters must bear in mind that they must vote "Yes" in order to attain the same object. Therefore, the signs and propaganda urging the people to vote "No" on prohibition questions will be useless for any further campaigns.

BEDOUINS MASSACRE MANY CHRISTIANS

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 26.—One hundred and fifty Christians have been killed at Ajlum, a village about 50 miles northeast of Jerusalem, by a band of Bedouins, according to a dispatch from Faifa, Palestine.

Another dispatch states that in a recent Bedouin raid on a train near Damascus an Italian naval officer was among the killed.

EXPORT OF CEMENT DELAYS CANAL WORK

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Aug. 27.—That the export of Canadian cement to the United States is seriously hampering the construction of the Welland ship canal, for which the Dominion Parliament recently passed an additional appropriation of $5,000,000, and which work Hon. Dr. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, on Monday told a deputation at Thorold, would be rushed with all possible speed, is the statement of contractors on the big project.

Flotation of Big Merger

MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—Although official confirmation is lacking in the matter, it is stated in financial circles that reports had been received from London announcing that Col. W. Grant Morden, who left here some weeks ago for the purpose, had succeeded in having underwritten the English share of the $25,000,000 issue of 8 per cent cumulative and participating stock of the British Empire Steel Corporation.

SOVIET SUMMONS FRESH FORCES

Troops Released From Finland Frontier Sent Against Poles —Trotzky Takes Personal Command of Armies

WARSAW, Aug. 26.—Fresh Bolsheviki forces released from the Finnish frontier, have been rushed toward Grodno in an endeavor to head off the Polish advance and if possible to rescue thousands of the Red army hemmed in by the Poles, according to tonight's military information.

Owing to the Soviet and Finnish peace treaty, thousands of Reds, it is reported, are being transferred to the Polish front.

Bolsheviki who have escaped the Polish armies are so overrunning the East Prussian frontier that the German military authorities are said to have called out extra border forces to prevent further crossing. It is estimated here that between 25,000 and 30,000 Reds have crossed. At several places the Germans, it is asserted, fired on the Reds, driving them back into Poland, where thousands are gradually being surrounded by the Poles.

WARSAW, Aug. 26. — General Tuchatschewski, known as the "Soviet Napoleon," has been relieved of his post as commander-in-chief of the Bolsheviki army on the Polish front because of his failure to take Warsaw, according to reports published here.

Leon Trotzky, Bolsheviki Minister of War and Marine, has personally taken command of the army, it is reported by Bolsheviki officers tonight.

General Tuchatschewski has had a remarkable career in the Russian army. He is of noble birth, and at the outbreak of the world war was captured by the Germans. Later he escaped and resumed his place in the army, rising to the rank of lieutenant. When the Soviet Government was established he was promoted and rose to high command, being credited with the defeat of Admiral Koltchak in Siberia and General Denikine in Southern Russia. He is only twenty-eight years old.

WARSAW, Aug. 27. — Russian Soviet troops who took refuge in Prussia are fighting the Poles along the frontier. An official statement issued just before last midnight says that the two Soviet batteries hauled into Prussia by the retreating Russians fired upon the Poles and that the Soviet forces are also using machine guns against the Poles on this sector. Polish troops who have reached the frontier have been cautioned by their commanders not to fire upon German territory.

While there has been a lull in the fighting on various sectors, the Poles advanced at several places Thursday, and have reached the region of Kobrin, approximately twenty-eight miles northeast of Brest-Litovsk, where the Poles in a surprise attack took 1,100 prisoners, four guns and the entire staff of the 57th Soviet division.

In continuation of the long drawn out campaign to capture Lemberg, the Soviet forces have reached Zadworze, just east of Lemberg, where the Poles have repulsed repeated attacks.

LONDON, Aug. 27—The Poles and Russians are fighting fiercely for the forts at Brest-Litovsk, 120 miles east of Warsaw, says the Soviet statement of Thursday, received by wireless today. In the Lemberg sector violent fighting is continuing with fluctuating results. The statement adds.

"On the Crimean sector, in the Kherson region, we have again driven back the enemy. In the Orlekov region exceedingly fierce fighting is proceeding with considerable forces of enemy cavalry."

PARIS, Aug. 27—Eighty thousand Russian Soviet soldiers have been captured in Poland, 40,000 killed and 30,000 interned in East Prussia, according to the latest raport received from the French mission in Poland.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—Bolsheviki reaction against Polish armies along the front east of Warsaw is not expected, at least for the present, by General Weygand, who is credited with having directed the defence of the Polish capital and hurled the Soviet armies back from that city, according to the Warsaw correspondent of The Petit Parisien. General Weygand is quoted as saying the Poles should not advance too far eastward, but should entrench themselves along a line that can be easily held, so that they may be able to resist any effort on the part of Soviet Russia to bring overwhelming forces against them in the future.

COUNCIL OF ACTION SENDS MESSAGES

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Following a meeting of the council of action of the Labor Party a telegram signed by Chairman Adamson, was sent to Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, and to M. Kemeneff, head of the Bolsheviki Commission in London.

The telegram said that the council having urged the Russian Government to withdraw its objectionable civil militia clause from its demands on Poland, notes with satisfaction the Soviet's latest decision, which removed all difficulties to peace between Russia and Poland.

It added that the council of action "now urges both the British and Russian Governments to publish the full terms on which they are willing to make peace."

LIVING COST HIGHER AMONG AUSTRALIANS

LONDON, Aug. 27.—In Australia, according to official figures just issued, the cost of living in July, 1920, as compared with the same month in 1914, showed the following increases:

New South Wales, 83 per cent; Victoria, 80 per cent; Queensland, 82 per cent; Western Australia, 46 per cent; Tasmania, 60 per cent; or an average for the states of 67.6 per cent.

POSTAL WORKERS SELECT VICTORIA

Next Year's Convention of the Amalgamated Union to Be Held Here—Mr. Sivertz Is Re-elected President

EDMONTON, Aug. 27.—Victoria, B. C., will be the scene of the 1921 convention of the Amalgamated Union of Postal Workers, according to a decision at this morning's convention session. Regina, Moose Jaw and Medicine Hat were also in nomination, but the great majority of the delegates were in favor of the coast city. The date is to be fixed by the executive, but will be some time during the months of July or August.

The morning session was taken up chiefly with the balloting for officers, and the following were chosen: President, C. C. Sivertz, Victoria, re-elected; first vice-president, F. Knowles, Vancouver; second vice-president, F. W. Readman, Regina; third vice-president, P. Curry, Medicine Hat; fourth vice-president, A. Logan, Port Arthur; fifth vice-president, S. C. Berridge; secretary-treasurer, J. E. Etrick, Winnipeg.

Greetings from the Amalgamated Postal Workers of Canada were extended to the British Postal Workers' Union in a cablegram sent by the convention here yesterday afternoon.

Matters relating to betterment of working conditions again occupied much of the delegates' time.

Among resolutions framed was one asking the Government to have the acknowledgment of report forms for registered mail treated in the same manner as the regular mail itself.

Another resolution asked that hand-to-hand checking of registered mail be adopted.

CONSTANTINE HOPES TO REGAIN THRONE

PARIS, Aug. 27.—Former King Constantine of Greece still hopes to regain his throne.

"I await the day when by the will of my people and the force of traditions, I will regain the throne which I undeservedly lost," he told a correspondent. "I never abdicated."

He denied having been in any way involved in the attempted assassination of the Greek Premier in this city on Aug. 12, and hinted that should he regain his throne he would be willing to work in harmony with Venizelos.

ADVISES POLAND ABOUT FRONTIER

French Counsel Is to Gain Strategical Position—Doubt as to Minsk Negotiations—Soviet's Reply Considered

PARIS, Aug. 27—The Foreign Ministry announced today that France had counselled Poland to attain the best strategical military position possible until peace is signed, regardless of her ethnographical frontier, because the military situation would influence the peace terms. France has advised Poland, however, to withdraw her armies within the Polish frontier upon the signing of peace, the Foreign Office added.

WARSAW, Aug. 26.—The Warsaw press is becoming pessimistic regarding the Minsk peace negotiations. The newspapers, with the exception of the Socialist press, express the belief that the moment is propitious to "liquidate Bolshevism."

The militarists are advocating a continuance of the war to compel the Soviets to seek terms, and the change in the Danzig situation has had a tendency to encourage the militarist elements.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Soviet reply to the note of Arthur J. Balfour, Lord President of the Council, signifying willingness of the Russian Soviet Government to withdraw the clause in the Russian peace terms to Poland concerning the army of Polish workmen, is under consideration by the British Government. A copy of the reply has been sent to Premier Lloyd George at Lucerne.

In usually well-informed quarters, it is held that as the Soviet Government has agreed to withdraw the offending clause, there is no need of further action at present by Great Britain.

MINSK, Aug. 26., 6 p.m.—There was no meeting of the Soviet-Polish conference today. This was due, the Poles said, to the fact that they had not heard from Warsaw regarding Ukrainia.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—There are two main currents of opinion in Poland—one for a fight to a finish against Bolshevism, the other for immediate peace and reconstruction at home, telegraphs the Warsaw correspondent of The London Times, commenting on a meeting of the Cabinet to discuss the removal of the Minsk conference elsewhere.

The next meeting of the Bolshevik-Polish peace conference will decide whether the negotiations shall proceed, says a dispatch from Minsk to The Daily Herald dated Tuesday.

EUROPE'S GREAT LOSS THROUGH WAR RAVAGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—To war influences ten European nations engaged in the world war show a potential loss in population of 35,320,000 persons since 1914, according to a statistical research conducted by the Society for Studying the Social Consequences of the War, of Copenhagen, made public today by the American Red Cross.

Causes of the abnormal falling of in population were attributed in the society's report as follows:

Killed in war, 9,819,000; deaths due to augmentation of mortality, economic blockades, war epidemics, 5,301,000; fall in birth rate today due to mobilization of 56,000,000 men between 20 and 45 years of age, 20,200,000.

PRICE OF FLOUR MAY DROP SOON

Millers and Dealers Expect Reduction When New Wheat Crop Moves and Wheat Board Ceases Control

MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—There is a distinct possibility that within the next month or so, following the big wheat crop in the West and the resumption of competitive dealing by the millers, the price of flour will decrease and be followed by a drop in the price of bread. Already, it is said by representatives of the leading milling interests, there had been a drop in the market price of No. 1 Northern, which is the standard wheat for flour purposes.

When the Wheat Board goes out of existence it is expected that the big millers will return to their old competitive systems of buying and selling, and the expectation is that in the course of time this will result in a reduction in the cost of flour and bread to the ultimate consumer.

As to just when this will take place the millers were not inclined to predict, since they are confronted with the problem of buying wheat and selling its products, but it was intimated that within a short time there might be developments that would ease the situation for the bread-winner and eater.

It was stated by a leading milling expert who has just returned from a tour of the West that present costs of bread depended largely on the stocks of flour in the hands of the millers and bakers. This flour had all been bought on the basis of $3.15 a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Port William as fixed by the Wheat Board, which the millers said had practically controlled prices both for the buying of wheat and the selling of its products. The Wheat Board, it was stated, would go out of existence on August 31, and then the business will return to its normal conditions, as in pre-war times, the big milling firms buying in competition and selling in the same way, with no fixed prices beyond market quotations.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Following the start of the Fall movement of the 1920 crop and the resumption of competitive dealing by millers, it is stated today on good authority, according to a local paper, that there will be a drop in the price of flour, and also in the price of bran and shorts.

One prominent miller said that the drop in the price of flour would be $1.50 a barrel at least. It was likely to take effect soon, probably next week or the week following, he intimated. The price of flour per barrel now is $14.30.

The price of bran and shorts, it was stated, would drop from $6 to $7 a ton.

One miller said that the expected drop in the price of bran and shorts would be a boon to the livestock and milk-producing industries. He declared that he could not see any excuse for the proposed increase in the price of milk, as feed was likely to be cheaper than last year. Besides the drop in the price of bran and shorts, he said, there seemed to be an abundance of hay, which could be purchased now for $10 per ton. Last year as high as $40 a ton was paid by his firm.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—A drop of forty cents in the wholesale price of a barrel of flour was announced by the Wheat Exchange.

The 1920 wheat crop appearing on the market is somewhat over-supplying the demand, the exchange said.

IRELAND IS DOOMED TO PERIOD OF CHAOS

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—That no individual, institution or party in Ireland now can ride the whirlwind which has been stirred up there, and bring order and settled government to that unhappy country, is the opinion of Right Hon. Sir Charles Hobhouse, Postmaster-General in the Asquith Government from 1914 to 1915, and Member of Parliament for Bristol from 1900 till the Liberal debacle in 1918. Sir Charles is staying here for a few days on his way back to England. He has been making an extensive examination of the immense tract of land in Southern Alberta which is being developed by the Canada Land & Irrigation Company, of which he is president.

The Irish people were so completely out of hand now that it would be a very wise man who could predict what the end would bring forth, so chaotic were the conditions there, Sir Charles said. He did not hold out much hope for the conference of moderates which is being held now in Dublin, so long as the extremist remained outside.

The problem was too deep-rooted to be settled in this way.

Sir Charles showed that he was keenly interested in the statement of policy recently enunciated by Premier Meighen, but he thought that in supporting such principles the Government was riding for a fall in the next election. He showed his firm belief in free trade in England when he stated with emphasis: "The war has taught the English people that high prices are the results of restricted imports. A tariff means restricted imports. They want no tariff."

RENT PROFITEERING NEEDS INVESTIGATION

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—After making an unofficial inquiry into the matter of rents in Winnipeg and elsewhere in the West, Captain W. White, Chief Commissioner of the Canadian Board of Commerce, has recommended to Ottawa that the Board be given authority to investigate charges of rent profiteering. Chairman White has found that much feeling exists in regard to this question, but with its present powers the Board has no authority to conduct an official inquiry.

Captain White leaves tonight for Ottawa after a busy month in the West, in the course of which he has held public inquiries at Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria.

After the Board separated at the Coast and the other members left for the East, the chairman completed several inquiries which were under way and in several directions has made tentative investigations which are expected to result in official action on his return to the capital.

THE NAVAL QUESTION

The people of this portion of British Columbia hoped to learn from Mr. C. C. Ballantyne, the Minister of Marine, during his visit here what plans the Government had in view for the inauguration of a naval policy. They were disappointed. All the Minister could tell us was that the whole subject is suspended until the Imperial Conference takes place next year. He held out but vague hope of the re-establishment of the naval base at Esquimalt, for his hint that the small war vessels being donated by Great Britain to Canada might be located on this coast was too indefinite to afford any reassurance. There is nothing that can be evolved by an Imperial Conference that is more likely to meet the needs of the situation than the expert report submitted to the Canadian Government by Viscount Jellicoe. Any Imperial Conference would have to ask the Admiralty for advice, and we doubt very much if any given would differ, in its main details, from that put forward by Viscount Jellicoe. There is no question of the ability of Canada to take her share in bearing the naval burden, but there are different sets of opinion on the subject, and there is a percentage of our population that it seems impossible to convince that there is any need for defending the coasts of the Dominion.

In any such matter we labor under a handicap because of a diversified population, many of whom are drawn from countries which are not trained by experience in the meaning of sea power. Since this is the case, and since those of British origin and British birth are also divided on the subject, there should be something in the nature of an educational campaign undertaken by the Government so that the nation as a whole can be shown wherein its duty to itself and to the Empire lies. Great Britain, for the time being, has partially suspended the normal construction of warships with a view to showing other countries that she is in earnest in her intention to reduce armaments. It is by no means clear that all other nations are following the example. The opportunity is greater today than ever before for Canada to adopt a self-respecting naval policy, which, when on a sure basis, would mean that Britain, which has protected this country altogether at sea in the past, need not indulge in such great naval expenditures in the future.

The present Government at Ottawa, so far, has no policy. We doubt if Mr. Mackenzie King, as leader of the Liberal Party, has any constructive views on the subject, but the opportunity to learn what his opinions are will come while he is here next month. His party was opposed to the vote for naval purposes which appeared in the last Federal estimates, and there has been no protest from him about demobilization at either Halifax or Esquimalt. In connection with this demobilization there is a point which should be explained by the authorities. The naval bases at both Esquimalt and Halifax, as we stated before, do not belong to Canada. They were handed over in trust by the Admiralty to the Dominion to be used for naval purposes. The question arises if they should not revert to the Admiralty now that their operation is no longer regarded as part of a naval policy. The whole matter of their future is bound up with what will be proposed in this country for the defence of our coasts, and while time is passing and new problems are arising, especially in the Pacific Ocean, nothing is being done that is worthy of the country or adequate to meet any eventuality that may develop.

PROHIBITION DISPENSARIES

Under the amended Prohibition Act whereby the amount of liquor that can be secured through a doctor's prescription has been reduced to a minimum, and in consequence of which receipts in the Government dispensaries have fallen to less than ten per cent of what they were, it is pertinent to ask what retrenchment has been effected in the operation of the law. The actual enforcement of the Act is in the hands of the Provincial and Municipal Police, and with it the Prohibition Commissioner does not appear to have anything to do. His duty seemingly lies in the supervision he exercises over the Government's chain of dispensaries, the work in which is now so restricted and desultory that their utility has become questionable. We know that drug stores, under the present dispensation, do not like filling liquor prescriptions, but it would be the part of economy for the Government to transfer to these the minor traffic which is now left since the Prohibition Act was amended last session.

In any case the public should be made aware of what it is costing to run the Prohibition dispensaries throughout the Province, and whether, under the amended law, they are paying their way. Another aspect of these stores that has never been cleared up is the abnormal charges which the Government has fixed for liquor. Since the commodity is only being sold for medicinal purposes, the charge made in Government dispensaries should not be prohibitive; in fact, it should only be what the Government pays for the liquor, plus as much as will insure in the aggregate the operating charges of the Prohibition Commissioner's department being met annually. There are a large number of stores in the Province, and wherever they are there are also drug dispensaries, so that the machinery for distribution is duplicated. Whatever excuse there may have been for Government dispensaries under the law, as it existed prior to June 1 last, there is none now since receipts have fallen off to such an extent. It is true the machinery may be intended to carry on the sale of liquor by the Government if the people vote for Government control in the coming plebiscite. If that is the intention possibly no blame attaches to the authorities for maintaining the stores, although there is no doubt money is being wasted.

"CANADIAN" PRESS DISPATCHES

Some United States contemporaries have noted the tour of Imperial Press delegates through Canada and express scepticism as to any good thing resulting therefrom. American newspapermen, like American politicians and American businessmen, do not like the idea of Canadians cultivating closer social, political and business relations with their kindred in the far flung territories composing the British Empire. They look upon Canada as a sort of business adjunct of the United States, and hope that it may continue permanently in that position. They have very substantial reasons for that feeling, because Canadians are doing a large and increasing business with American citizens, notwithstanding the fiscal barriers that have been erected against such trade by American politicians coached by American business men, and by conditions created by American manipulators of the stock exchanges. Hence there is nothing to be astonished at in the statement of a contributor to The Detroit Free Press that "the Imperial Press Conference will not, it is believed, leave a very lasting impression upon Canadian public opinion nor exercise over much influence in diverting the current of Canadian politics from a democratic to an imperialistic course if current comment be accepted as a criterion."

We have followed with very close attention the deliberations of the Press Conference and the references of its members to matters that came under their observation during the tour of Canada, and have noted no inclination to attempt to influence public opinion on domestic politics; in fact, all speakers appear to have been particularly discreet in their references to matters which are the sole concern of the Canadian people. The delegates have endeavored to create an interest in questions of Empire-wide significance as appertaining to consolidation of a sentiment which will insure the permanence of the political institution known as the British Empire. That is the mission of the Imperial Press Conference. There is one thing lacking towards the consummation of this end. That is the establishment of a news service capable of covering the whole field and keeping the teeming millions of its population adequately and correctly informed of the progress of events within its bounds. The service of the Canadian Press, Ltd., at present is inadequate. It supplies meagre information regarding important current events in any of the great commonwealths composing the British Empire, and the news it receives regarding affairs in Europe, and in Great Britain particularly, is not always reliable, because it is colored to suit the views and the prejudices of readers for the most part antagonistic in sentiment to British institutions and the British system of government. The fact here stated is borne out almost every day in the dispatches published on this side of the water regarding general affairs in Britain and the conditions in Ireland. Yet the Canadian Press is dependent upon those dispatches. The chief mission of the Imperial Press Conference has been to discuss these things and, if possible, to suggest a remedy for them. A remedy is devoutly to be desired, and we believe the hope generally throughout Canada is that such may be forthcoming.

It is surprising that whoever is responsible for organizing the tour of the Imperial Press delegates did not arrange for them to visit one of the great pulp mills of British Columbia. There are few things in the Province that would interest them more, and in these days of a shortage of newsprint it would have been illuminating to be able to show them the vast pulp industry of the Province which now represents an investment not far short of $50,000,000, an amount which will be doubled in the course of the next few years.

A correspondent is informed that it is the intention of the author of "Canada's Own," the story of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police now being printed in weekly instalments in this newspaper, to publish it in book form in the course of time. Many are making inquiries to the same effect, and this statement should satisfy all who are looking forward to an opportunity to preserve what will probably be the most interesting and authentic record of life in the Northwest that has ever been written.

The Prohibition Commissioner should be in a position to inform us within what time of a doctor ordering liquor for a patient in a hospital the prescription can be filled. It is claimed that under the law hospitals are permitted to keep a stock of liquor for medicinal uses. It would be of interest to learn if the practice is observed throughout the Province. Sickness is not bound down by times, and liquor may be wanted to save a patient's health or life at any hour of the day or night. Does the Prohibition law make provision for such being obtainable at the instant when it may be most needed, either in the hospitals or homes of the people?

FIRE IS SWEEPING BIG HORN TIMBER

SHERIDAN, Wy., Aug. 27.—Fire is sweeping the timberland in the Big Horn district today despite efforts of a fire-fighting force to check it. Three other crews are en route. No lives have been lost, but hundreds of sheep are thought to have been killed.

More than 100 acres of splendid timber have been burned already. This has been an unusually dry season.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is thought to have been an abandoned camp fire.

Clawed By Lioness

BEACH, N.D., Aug. 27.—Harold Eide, eleven years old, had his scalp torn from his head and his body horribly cut by claws of a lioness at a carnival here yesterday. He was taken to a hospital at Dickinson last night and more than fifty stitches taken in the head, back, arms and chest. He is expected to recover.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The British Colonist of August 28, 1870.)

Whales in Shoals—The vicinity of Cape Flattery is said to be "alive" with whales, which appear to be more numerous than usual this season, though somewhat later in arriving than last year. They keep well out to sea, however, which renders them difficult to reach by the boats now used by the local whaling companies.

From New Westminster—The steamer Enterprise, Captain Swanson, arrived from New Westminster at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Among the passengers were Judge Crease, Registrar Pooley, Messrs. McCreight, Robertson, A. Macgrave, Jr., H. Nelson, Capt Fleming, C. Hughes, W. Sonderick and Officer McMillan. A Cariboo express and mail, and $40,000 in treasure were brought down.

The War—Dispatches from London say there are rumors of heavy fighting. It is feared that McMahon has been defeated. Official circles are very reticent, more so than at any time during the week. The enemy is marching slowly but surely on Paris. Engineers of the capital were very busy yesterday in making inspections over the main roads, which will be destroyed upon the approach of the Prussians.

NEW THEATRE WILL BE ERECTED IN VICTORIA

Site Secured and Plans Completed for Construction of Commodious House to Feature Moving Pictures

Final details were completed for the erection of a $300,000 motion picture theatre in Victoria, to be operated by a company known as the Paramount Victoria Theatre, Limited, a concern in which the Famous Players' Canadian Corporation has a majority interest.

The project, for which negotiations have been in progress for some time, is being financed by Burdick Brothers, Limited, the well-known firm of investment brokers. The directors of the company include the following: Mr. Gordon E. Burdick, director of Burdick Brothers, Limited; Major R. H. B. Ker, director of Messrs. Brett & Ker, Limited, Victoria; Mr. A. H. Douglas, of the firm of Bowser, Reid & Wallbridge, barristers, Vancouver; Mr. J. R. Muir, managing director of the B.C. Paramount Theatres, Limited, and Mr. N. L. Nathanson, general manager of the Famous Players, Canadian Corporation.

The site for the new theatre has already been secured at the southeast corner of Blanshard and Yates Streets. The main entrance will be on Yates Street, where the frontage is 60 feet. Along Blanchard the property has a frontage of 120 feet, and an additional 30 feet by 120 has been purchased, south of the main lot. In all, about 1,100 square feet of building space will be available.

Immediate Construction

Plans for the new theatre have been completed by the architects and approved by the directors, so that construction will commence at the earliest possible moment, it being the intention to have the theatre in operation by the New Year.

Embodying all that is latest and most magnificent in motion picture theatre construction, the "Capitol," as the new theatre is to be called, will equal, if not surpass, any theatre of the motion picture variety on the Pacific Coast at the present time. Special attention in the designing has been paid to the acoustic features, and by a novel installation any possibility of trouble in this regard has been overcome. Coupled with this, a complete equipment of the legitimate stage will be so placed in the building as not to interfere with the conduct of the theatre for motion pictures, but at the same time will allow the building to be transformed for any other type of entertainment which may for the time being prove more profitable.

Music Will Be Feature

Special attention is also being paid to the music, which will be a feature of all entertainments at the "Capitol." Victoria has always been noted for its music-loving and music-following public. This has been thoroughly realized by the directors of the new theatre. Lounge rooms, tea rooms and other cozy features calculated to make for the comfort and pleasure of patrons of the theatre will be minor features in the general plan.

The seating capacity of the new theatre will be almost 1,500, a figure which experts at the present time consider to be the maximum for a well-regulated motion picture theatre and a capacity ensuring everyone having proper perspective and view. In New York some of the most popular motion picture theatres have capacities of 1,500 or under, and New York is admittedly the greatest cinema city in the world.

Interviewed in regard to the financing of the new theatre, Messrs. Burdick Brothers state that its construction will be provided for by a $300,000 issue of 8 per cent twenty-year sinking fund, first mortgage gold bonds, and that a bonus of common stock will be given to bondholders.

In the course of a few days drawings and designs will be in the city, showing the various features of architecture, both of the exterior and interior.

It is pointed out that the B. C. Paramount Theatres, Limited, which operate the present Dominion theatres in Vancouver and Victoria, and which are allied very closely with the "Capitol" project, made net earnings of approximately 35 per cent last year on invested capital. This seems to indicate that the future of the new theatre is destined to be a prosperous one.

The properties that will go up for sale unless the taxes are paid include blocks as large as ninety acres. A church is also included in the list. Less than 400 parcels were put up at last year's sale.

OFFICIALS DISCHARGED BY SAANICH COUNCIL

Suspension of Engineer Milne by Reeve Made Permanent —Road Superintendent Is Given Month's Notice

The Saanich Council on Thursday night passed resolutions dispensing with the services of both Municipal Engineer Milne and Road Superintendent G. G. Girling.

Some time ago a resolution was passed by the Council stating that the engineer and superintendent would be kept on until after the water and sewer by-laws were voted on by the ratepayers. If they were turned down at the polls, it was admitted that at least one of the men would have to go.

On August 13, over a week before the by-laws were voted upon, Reeve Watson suspended Engineer Milne. He told the Council on Thursday night that he took this step on several grounds. He took it from the expressions of the councillors at previous meetings that they were all dissatisfied with the work of the engineer, who, he claimed, had time and again ignored the Council and the authority of the Reeve. It was now up to the Council, he stated, to endose his action, thus making the suspension absolute, or to reinstate the official.

A discussion followed, in which Councillors Henderson, Clark and Dooley told the Reeve that he had made a mistake in suspending the engineer. While they admitted that it was their wish to dispense with his services, they pointed out that suspension is a power given the Reeve for cases where quick action is necessary. The Reeve, they claimed, might easily have left the matter until Thursday night's meeting.

Opens Attack

Councillor Clark led the attack upon the Reeve. The members of the Board seemed at a loss as to what to say. There were periods of silence when the councillors were searching mentally for the way out.

Councillor Clark would rather the Reeve had let the Council consider the matter, and let the official out with better grace.

Councillor Henderson: "Hear, hear."

Reeeve Watson pointed out what he considered to be blots in the engineer's record with the Municipality. He added that the official had on several occasions taken holidays without notifying the Reeve. "What is the Reeve of the Municipality here for? He's supposed to have strict authority over all officials," continued the head of Saanich, who pointed out that the suspension came after the engineer had gone to Vancouver for a trip.

"I do not hold the engineer altogether responsible for the mismanagement," declared Councillor Clark, pointing out that the official's time had been taken up with preparing the water and sewer plans. The man was forced to carry all the misdemeanors of the Works Department upon his shoulders. He thought other officials should be considered before the Engineer was suspended.

"I asked the man some time ago to resign, and he wouldn't consider it," said the Reeve. "He persisted in going on with the bullheaded methods he has used ever since he came here."

Then Councillor Henderson took up the cudgels in an attack on the Reeve's action. "I consider," he said, "that the preparation of the water and sewer plans alone was sufficient work for the engineer during his time here." He doubted if any other engineer could have made more reports than this one had done during the time he was with Saanich.

Reeve Watson pointed out that the sewer plans were largely a copy of plans drawn up by a former engineer, and where they had been deviated from the Government engineer, who went over them, had reported adversely.

"I do think it was a pity this thing couldn't have been left till tonight," said Councillor Henderson.

Ignored Council

The Reeve again enlarged on the misdeeds of the engineer, who, he claimed, had "ignored the Council from the very minute he came in here."

"I admit the work has been very unsatisfactory this year, but I don't blame this official altogether," replied Councillor Henderson. "He didn't have full charge, but he was held responsible."

"No man sitting round this board backed the engineer the first three months of this year more than I did," declared the Reeve.

Councillor Brooks moved that all the officials of the engineering staff be suspended. His ward could do without them, he declared.

The Reeve, in the course of a heated discussion which followed, made a remark about officials running to members of the Council with every little tale they had.

"There are others," retorted Councillor Henderson.

"None have been coming to me," came back the Reeve.

"That will do," responded Councillor Henderson.

"I think Saanich will find it hard to get another engineer," remarked Councillor Henderson.

"It won't be hard to get a better one than this one," retorted Reeve Watson.

"You might have treated him more gentlemanly and less harshly," said the councillor.

"I shan't be satisfied until we get better service, but I can't say that the engineer was entirely responsible for the waste of public money," put in Councillor Clark.

Councillors Pim and Graham both remarked that the way the Works Department was being run was in everybody's mouth.

Disclaims Responsibility

Councillor Dooley washed his hands of the whole affair by stating that he was against the appointment of this engineer in the first place. He pointed out that former Engineer Johnson had been promised his position when he came back from overseas, but he was passed over on the grounds of expense. "I hope the Council won't blame me," concluded the councillor.

At intervals throughout this discussion the Reeve reminded the Council that it must either endorse his action or reinstate the engineer. The councillors refused to come to the point, persisting in hedging. Councillors Dooley, Henderson and Clark believed the Reeve had made a mistake. The other three did not express themselves.

The Reeve pointed out that the councillors had seemed unanimously against the engineer at recent meetings. "Why this change of front now?" he demanded, when harassed.

"You've placed the Council in a very funny position," spoke up Councillor Dooley. "If the act of suspension was not endorsed it would pretty well flattens you out," he claimed. He did not wish to throw the Reeve down, and yet he did not agree with the Reeve's action.

"The engineer has got an awful lot of abuse from this Council," said Councillor Henderson in the course of further desultory remarks by the councillors. Reeve Watson reiterated that he had backed the official up to the end of May.

Avoid Issue

Various attempts were made to put resolutions which would not let the Reeve down, but would salve the consciences of the councillors, but the municipal head brought the issue of endorsement or reinstatement before them each time.

By 1:30 Councillors Clark and Graham had commenced to advocate a resolution calling for the resignation of both the engineer and the road superintendent. Councillor Pim moved a resolution to this effect. Councillor Henderson wanted the two officials dealt with separately, and so did the Reeve. Councillor Henderson moved an amendment that the Reeve's action in suspending the engineer be endorsed and that the suspension be extended until the end of September, when his services would no longer be required. This amendment passed. Councillor Clark then moved that the services of the road superintendent be dispensed with and the usual notice given. Councillors Henderson and Dooley dissented. The time was then 1:45. The meeting adjourned.

Engineer Milne has been with Saanich since the beginning of this year.

Road Superintendent G. G. Girling was appointed in 1915, and from the end of 1916 until the end of 1919 he had charge of the engineering department in the municipality.

SNAG LIES IN PATH OF HEALTH CENTRE

Saanich Council Finds Tenders Thousands of Dollars Above Amount at Disposal—Committee to Seek Solution

The Saanich Health Centre project hit another snag when tenders on the building were opened in the Saanich Council meeting on Thursday night. The lowest figure for a frame structure was about $3,000 above what may be spent under the Health Centre By-Law passed in January, while the hollow tile estimate was some $6,000 too high.

After considerable discussion a committee consisting of Reeve Watson and Councillors Pim, Dooley and Henderson, was appointed to go into the matter with the architects and endeavor to find a way out of the difficulty.

Four tenders for plumbing and six for the building were considered by the Council. Hayward & Dodds submitted the lowest plumbing figure, which was a little short of $6,000. Williams, Trerise & Williams were lowest on the building, estimating close to $20,500 for a hollow tile structure, about $19,600 for a frame one and approximately $20,700 for a brick building.

Clerk Cowper pointed out that while the Health Centre By-Law was for $25,000, the amount which would be available for the building was only about $22,000.

Major Spurgin, who is architect for the Centre, explained to the Council that reductions could be made in the cost by cutting out some fine points, such as fireplaces, counter and office desk, metal lath, etc. He added that, given a figure he could keep within it. The Council appeared of the opinion that it would be better to endeavor to get the extra money somewhere than to reduce the excellence of the building.

ONE MONTH IN PRISON FOR BICYCLE THIEF

Walter Gale Is Convicted in City Police Court After Swearing He Found Machine on Vacant Lot

Walter Gale, an elderly man, who said he had been working as a motor car finisher in the city for some months past, was sentenced by Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court yesterday to one month's imprisonment on conviction of unlawfully retaining possession of a bicycle knowing the same to have been stolen. The accused pleaded not guilty, and was undefended by counsel. His explanation of finding the bicycle on a vacant lot and taking it to the home of an acquaintance for safe keeping, pending inquiries was unsatisfactory to the magistrate, who said that the weight of evidence against the accused was too heavy to leave any doubt of his guilt.

The prosecution brought evidence to show that the bicycle had been stolen from the verandah of a rooming house in James Bay, where it had been left by one of the roomers, the father of the owner, who had intended putting it in storage during the absence from the city of his son. The defendant lived at the same house. The bicycle disappeared last Monday. It was found by the police in the house of Mrs. Willoughby, who had communicated with the police; who testified in court that accused had brought the machine to her house and had said he was going to make a present of it to her twin boys. She said that he had told her he had given $20 for the machine.

Richard and Thomas Willoughby, the thirteen-year-old twin sons of the former witness, and who were so like each other that when Tommy succeeded Dicky in the witness box His Honor thought the latter had been brought back again for further testimony, corroborated their mother's testimony in every detail. They agreed that accused had removed the name plate and some other fittings from the bicycle in their presence and that he had previously promised to give them a bicycle.

Walter Gale, the defendant, said he had been getting his meals for some weeks past at Mrs. Willoughby's house. He declared that he had found the machine on a vacant lot, on the route he usually traversed between his room and his boarding-house. He had taken the bicycle to the place for safekeeping, pending inquiries about it, he said. The witnesses had been mistaken in their evidence of his having said he had paid $20 for the bicycle, he declared.

Magistrate Jay said there was no doubt that accused had been in possession of the machine. Under those circumstances the onus had been on accused to show how he had come by it; and he had failed to do so. Defendant's story was neither probable nor consistent, said His Honor. He would have to record a conviction, and he would sentence the defendant to one month's imprisonment.

Disloyalty at Islington

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The labor party in Islington, one of London's large industrial boroughs, which recently rescinded the standing order that the national flag should fly on the town hall on days of rejoicing, was fiercely criticised at a public protest meeting. It was stated that the Labor majority only represented 22 per cent of the electorate.

MR. BOWSER'S VISIT TO PRINCE RUPERT

Addressed Large Meeting in Empress Theatre, and Was Given Very Enthusiastic Reception

PRINCE RUPERT, Aug. 24.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Empress Theatre here on Monday evening to hear Mr. W. J. Bowser speak on the current topic of the mal-administration of the present Government. The meeting was well attended by both men and women, amongst whom were noticed a sprinkling of erstwhile Victorians.

Mr. Bowser was in very good form, and delivered one of his clear-cut, convincing addresses, which was apparently well received. If one may judge from the applause that greeted his remarks; and while he clearly portrayed the failings of the Oliver Government, and more especially that of the local member, his remarks were remarkably free from bitterness. His experience in looking for the $400,000 court house, said by some of the Vancouver papers to be in course of erection, was somewhat amusing, as instead of the sound of hammer and saw on the supposed site, all he could see was a merry-go-round, placed supposedly in advance of the Premier's visit, so that from the saddle of a rocking-horse he might have a view of the locality.

The Conservative leader created considerable amusement by describing the raid for liquor, where numerous cases were seized, and which apparently had been opportunely staged for his delectation by the authorities in upholding the provisions of the Prohibition Act.

Mr. Bowser is accompanied by Mr. Harry Graham, and goes South tonight by the U. S. S. Co's Chelohsin.

Tradition in China

For all the rapid changes which are taking place in material matters in China, it will take much longer to change entirely the Chinese conception of life's values. And yet it would be foolish to ignore the symptoms which show that many of the new generation are discontented with the old ideals of conduct which have been established in China for centuries.—Hongkong Times.

City and District in Brief

Soft Drinks Purloined—Ten dozen bottles of soda were stolen on Thursday night from the Fairall Soda Water Works by thieves who gained entrance from the roof. The theft was reported to the police.

Asks For Name—Would the lady who had her purse returned by a conductor on a Beacon Hill car, Saturday evening kindly leave her name at the ticket office, Broad Street, to save a serious misunderstanding.

Missed His Money—When Thomas Ewing, a visitor in the city, awoke yesterday morning, following a night of joy-riding with new-found acquaintances, he missed his wallet containing $80 when he last examined it. He reported his loss to the police yesterday.

Residence Broken Into—The residence of Mr. F. W. Whittington, 767 Linden Avenue, was broken into some time during Thursday night, entrance being gained through a rear window, and the place ransacked. The owner was unable to say yesterday whether anything had been stolen.

Heather Day Results—The sale of heather on August 26 benefited the works of the Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. by the amount of $548.41. Among the many activities of this Chapter is that of sending boxes of comforts to soldier-settlers' families situated in the outlying districts of the Island.

Saturday Concert — The usual weekly concert of the Great War Veterans will be held in the clubrooms tonight at 8 o'clock. A fine programme has been arranged and the club orchestra will again be in attendance. Members and their friends are here reminded of the enjoyable nature of these entertainments.

Obstructs Wireless — No wireless report was issued last night by the Gonzales Hill Station. Messages from the coast stations could not be received owing to the pronounced electrical disturbances in the air and their disturbing effects upon the instruments. This is a by no means unusual occurrence at this time of year.

Amateur Photographers—A number of people attended the meeting of the Amateur Photographic Society held last evening in the exhibition room of the Provincial Arts and Industrial Institute, Mr. W. Baer explained the objects and proceedings of the society, and then those present produced a number of very interesting specimens of their work. The first annual general meeting of the society will be held on Friday next, September 3, at the same place, when several interesting matters in addition to the formal business will be brought up. The society now has between 20 and 30 members.

Hon. Mr. King's Visit—Plans for the reception of the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, when he arrives to open his speaking tour of Western Canada, have been placed in the hands of Premier Oliver, the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, Henry C. Hall, M.P.P., A. B. Fraser, W. M. Ivel, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, and A. H. Cox, secretary. Special committees in charge of details of his visit have been appointed by President W. M. Ivel of the local Liberal Association.

Break Up Celebration—In order to celebrate the conclusion of a highly enjoyed period of living out-of-doors, the campers at the Y.M.C.A. men's camp at the Gorge entertained their friends last night, who attended in large numbers and a most enjoyable time was had. Tea was partaken of at the Japanese Tea Gardens. A fleet of about fifty boats were on the water, and during the evening a string of canoes made the trip to Craigflower Bridge and return, when a number of songs were sung. Later in the evening a dance took place at the Elks' Hall at the Gorge.

Back From Peace River—Mr. H. M. Grahame, vice-president of the Provincial Conservative Association, returned home yesterday from an extended trip to the Peace River Country, which he made in company with Mr. W. J. Bowser, K.C., Conservative leader. It was his first visit to that section in thirty-five years, a section which, in his youth, he traversed largely as an employee of the Hudson's Bay Company. Mr. Grahame greatly enjoyed his trip and stated that throughout the tour the Opposition leader was given an enthusiastic reception. Politically speaking, Mr. Grahame states, the section in the Peace River and along the line of the G.T.P. will be found supporting opposition candidates at the next Provincial general elections. Mr. Bowser will return home this morning.

Magistrate Interprets for Indians—After fining Louie Marshall, an Indian, in the sum of $5 for drunkenness, Magistrate Jay had before him in the City Police Court yesterday the wife of the accused, on the charge of having intoxicating liquor. The charge was brought under the Indian Act, which makes it an offence for Indians to be found with intoxicants. Mary Marshall could not speak English, and in the absence of an interpreter, Magistrate Jay interrogated the accused in the Chinook tongue. It appeared that her story was to the effect that the liquor in question, a bottle of lemon extract, was given to her by a West Coast Indian whose name she did not know. Whether or not Louie's insobriety was the effect of partaking of Mary's lemon extract did not transpire in court; but it was thought advisable to order a remand of the case, pending an analysis of the flavoring essence.

Square Pegs in Round Holes

The manner in which the placing of a worker in the wrong job affects society as a whole in the consequent dissatisfaction with his condition, there are no statistics at hand, and it might not be possible to secure them with any accuracy, to show how many workers are discontented with their present employment who might be more contented and happy, more useful and helpful members of society, if employed at some other task, some of an occupation and less of a task, but they must be legion in numbers. This is one of the great reservoirs of discontent whose ill effects are apparent everywhere. All the leaders of disturbances and disruption count upon this discontent to supply the human material which they use. They try to give it direction and purpose.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Lady Jones, Wife of Sir Roderick Jones, With Imperial Press Party, Served as a V.A.D. in France

Among the ladies who are now in Victoria in connection with the Imperial Press party is Lady Jones, characterized sometimes as "the bride of the party" because her marriage to Sir Roderick Jones, chairman and managing director of Reuter's, took place very shortly before they left England.

Lady Jones is the daughter of Colonel A. H. Bagnold, of London, and during the war gave two years' service in France as a V. A. D. Her experiences in this connection she has brought together in a book entitled "A Diary Without Dates." She has other claims to authorship. A second book, "Sailing Ships," is a compilation of poems illustrated with drawings by the author.

After her experiences as a V. A. D. Lady Jones joined the French first-aid unit, known as the F. A. N. Y., her duties taking her to Metz at the time that Marshal Petain made his triumphal entry to the fortress and tunnels at Verdun, where no woman had been for months before.

A third book by Lady Jones, "The Happy Foreigner," has just recently been published. This is the outcome of the author's experience with the F. A. N. Y., and deals with conditions in France directly after the cessation of war when civilians were living in shell holes where food was delivered to them once weekly only. Huts eventually were sent out, and English and American "foster mothers" supplemented the work of the Government in collecting food and clothing from their own communities.

Writing and nursing do not represent all Lady Jones' gifts. She is a frank lover of all outdoor sports, riding, tennis, swimming and golf being her special delights.

Lady Jones' wedding to Sir Roderick Jones just before sailing for Canada was one of the social events of the Summer. It took place in Chelsea old church, the historic building which at the time of its erection was in a country parish.

The guests included Prince and Princess Bibesco, the new Roumanian ambassador at Washington. Viscount and Viscountess Wimbourne and Lady Sackville. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Asquith signed the register. Lady Jones was Miss Enid Bagnold before her marriage, daughter of Col. A. H. Bagnold, C.B., C.M.G.

IS BRIDGE SAFE?

Saanich Council Still Doubtful of Structure Across Gorge—Asks for Investigation

That the Gorge Bridge was in no safe condition even now that repairs had been made, was the opinion expressed in the Saanich Council on Thursday night. It was decided to have the engineering department report on the matter.

Councillor Clark made a suggestion that a dam and locks might be built where the bridge is, making a lake of the upper part of the Arm. Councillor Henderson remarked about mosquitoes, and the suggestion was ignored. The Saanich and Esquimalt municipalities recently jointly repaired the Gorge Bridge, financially aided by the Government. The financial statement was received by the council, showing the total cost to be $2,099, the cost to the municipalities $1,099, and the cost to Saanich $557. Reeve Watson pointed out that the cost was $800 over the engineer's estimate. He also criticized the way in which the repairs had been made. The amount was ordered paid by the Council.

OBJECTS TO "JUNK"

Councillor Clark Prefers New Tractor to Second-Hand One for Saanich

"It's a sad state of affairs when the Council is forced to buy junk to carry on its work," declared Councillor Clark before the Saanich Council on Monday night, in protesting against the purchase of a second-hand tractor. One of the municipal tractors engaged on the West Saanich Road paving job broke down, and in order that the work should not be delayed, Road Superintendent Girling received the assent of the Reeve and several of the councillors to buy a second-hand machine. The Council was asked to endorse the move. Councillor Clark objected, being in favor of buying a new tractor. Councillor Henderson explained that the purchased tractor had once been a hearse, and so could not have run very much. The purchase was endorsed, Councillor Clark dissenting as a matter of principle.

SOUND ADVICE IS GIVEN LOCAL REALTORS

At Luncheon Yesterday Delegate to National Convention Points Out Need of Giving Information to Press

The Pacific Northwest delegation of the National Convention Club of the Associated Real Estate Boards of the American continent were the guests of the members of the Victoria Real Estate Exchange at a luncheon in the Dominion Hotel yesterday. The visitors were headed by Mr. Edward Arthaud, past president of the Interstate Realty Association. Mr. H. G. Beckwith, Mr. Walter Daly and Mr. Frank McCrillis, of the Portland Realty Board, also were present.

Mr. Alfred Carmichael was in the chair, and in a brief address he stated that the object of the gathering was to get together and exchange ideas that would prove helpful to real estate men. He then introduced the first speaker, Mr. Edward Arthaud, referring to the latter's untiring efforts on behalf of the real estate men.

Mr. Arthaud, in opening his speech, stated that he well remembered the splendid entertainment that the real estate men had been given last July in Victoria, and went on to say that the trouble with the business at present is that it has got into a rut. Some of the members have the personality that puts them ahead, but it is not so generally. He urged the members to attend the meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, of which Victoria is one, at Chicago, next June.

In June of this year, 1,782 delegates registered at the convention at Kansas City, and as a great many did not register, these facts will give an idea of the size and importance of the gathering expected at Chicago. Anyone who goes must benefit from the association of ideas. The speaker stated that he had learned a lot from attending these conventions, and gave as a practical illustration the fact that he had formed the impression that dwelling houses would be a good investment when he attended the convention at St. Louis in 1918, and he had been well repaid by the use he had made of the information. The meeting at Chicago will be well organized, and business will be put on a real professional plane.

Exclusive Listings

Mr. Arthaud said he believed in exclusive listings. He had found out by practical experience that he could spend his time thoroughly on any property he had in hand, he could afford to advertise it, and the owner had confidence, knowing that a sale would be made. In the Grays Harbor district, there are only three men who have not adopted exclusive listings, and in one month his office made 75 per cent of the sales in Hoquiam. He urged the Victoria members of the Real Estate Exchange to join the club that has been formed with the idea of getting as many as possible to attend the convention at Chicago. The idea was to contribute $15 per month. The fare would be approximately $155, and there would be a Pullman car for the members. Each community has its own elected treasurer, who collects the money. Already, the numbers promised to go are: Portland 67, Grays Harbor 5, Tacoma 9, Seattle 14, and Bellingham 9, and some from Vancouver.

Mr. H. G. Beckwith, of the Portland Board, said that the Victoria men should change present business conditions. "Are you going to sit around and say that business is bad?" he asked, "or are you going to get out and hustle?" "One-man time" is past, but a body of men can do a lot. He had brought back the idea from the Kansas City convention that vacant property would sell, and that it is a good investment. If a man today has nerve and shows good judgment in buying, he will make money. Acting on his reports from the Milwaukee convention, his clients had made money. In regard to vacant lots, the people must be educated up to the idea. In Portland they are using advertisements to show that unimproved property is a good investment. Improvements cost three times as much as they formerly did, and therefore that is an argument in favor of selling unimproved land. The members of the Real Estate Exchange should get Victorians used to this idea.

Forget Traditions

Mr. Beckwith warmly endorsed Mr. Arthaud's remarks about exclusive listing, saying that he had found out the benefits derived from it by practical illustrations in his own business. Real Estate men should not be bound by traditions in business. He referred to the knowledge that he had learned at the Kansas City convention, which had enabled him to make some good sales. With reference to the gathering at Chicago, the sum of $50,000 has been put aside for entertainment purposes. The trip will cost $300 each, and everyone attending should obtain $3,000 worth of information. He himself expected to make more than $3,000 out of the trip.

Mr. Beckwith asked how many would go from Victoria, and said that he wanted to know "right now." He got five promises, and amidst much laughter he said that he was very pleased, as he could inform those present that he had only had three promises from Vancouver. Discussing the special train for the trip, he said that the journey to Chicago would be made over one of the American lines and the return by the C. P. R. The train would have a car with a hardwood floor for "stunts" and dancing, a barber shop and every modern comfort.

Mr. Lineham inquired as to the length of time the exclusive listings hold good. The answer was "Generally 90 days, as that should be sufficient time in which to make a sale." In answer to another question, Mr. Beckwith said that his firm did other business besides exclusive listings.

Mr. Cross Commends Conventions

Mr. C. T. Cross referred to his enthusiasm over the Real Estate Exchange. He had learned a lot, he said, at the St. Louis convention, and warmly endorsed the remarks of Mr. Arthaud and Mr. Beckwith, and advocated the sending of a delegation from Victoria to Chicago.

Mr. J. C. Bridgman proposed a vote of thanks to the visiting speakers, and this was seconded by Mr. Beaumont Boggs, who took occasion to refer to the press, claiming that the real estate men are not getting the same support from the newspapers that they gave them. He said that the advertisements are not giving satisfactory results, and said that the real estate men should get together and supply the papers with information.

In reply to Mr. Boggs, Mr. Beckwith said: "You can get the support of the newspapers. The trouble is," he continued, "that you are afraid of yourselves. Why don't you go and tell the newspapers what you want? The only reason that perhaps you do not get sufficient support is that you don't get after the newspapers enough. You should have information for them. In Portland, there is a publicity department, which gives information to the papers."

Mr. Carimchael then said that he wanted the Victoria Real Estate Exchange put on the map, and asked all the members to attend the general meeting which will be held later, and of which due notice will be given.

SHOWED FAKE DEPOSIT

A. J. Dolan, Held on Serious Charges, Swelled His Bank Account in Simple Manner

To delude his intended victims into believing that he was possessed of ample funds, A. J. Dolan, alias A. J. Kelly, who is held at police headquarters on two charges of obtaining money and goods by false pretences, adopted the simple expedient of depositing $10 at the Union Bank, securing a bank pass book. He then forged an entry in the book, making it appear that he had made another deposit of $810. When he cashed his cheques with local merchants he showed them the bank book to lead them to suppose that he had ample funds wherewith to meet the cheques uttered.

In addition to the charge of obtaining goods valued at $71 and cash for $4 from Messrs. Dorman & Company, clothiers, who accepted his cheque for $75, Dolan also passed two cheques for $18 each, one on Messrs. Duncan & Company, where he bought a valise for $9, receiving $9 in cash; and the second on Mr. J. H. Mansell, from whom he purchased a pair of shoes for $9, receiving that amount in cash in change. These additional charges will be laid against him in the police court this morning.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 26.—Foreign Minister Salaverry announced today that he would soon release $23,000,000 which is held in the United States to the credit of the account of the Argentine Embassy in Washington. The decree releasing the gold is expected Saturday and is presumed it will have the effect of reducing the heavy discount on the Argentine peso in the United States.

DELEGATES VISITED "BENVENUTO" FRIDAY

Imperial Press Members Are Cordially Received by Mr. and Mrs. Butchart at Their Brentwood Home

Shortly after the arrival of the Imperial Press delegates from Vancouver yesterday afternoon, they motored out on the East Saanich Road to Brentwood to a garden fete given by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart.

Upon arriving at the gates of "Benvenuto," the automobiles were directed along the beautiful drive, which is shadowed on either side by masses of Dorothy Perkins roses, to the lawn, where Mr. and Mrs. Butchart received their guests, assisted by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ross.

The visitors then wandered through the grounds, and many were the ejaculations of pleasure and wonder as each turn of the many paths brought forth more beauties in these exquisite gardens. The sunken gardens proved the greatest attraction, the height of the rocky sides and the admirably kept flower beds being an endless source of wonderment. "Doesn't this remind you of Home?" enquired an Englishman to a lady standing by. "Yes, but one has never before imagined anything so immense and so utterly beautiful," was the response.

A delicious buffet tea was served on the lawn, and after that Max Malini proved "the drawing card" in more senses than one, and delighted his audience with his many sleight-of-hand tricks with cards, coins and many other unimaginable articles.

Among the Imperial Press delegates present were: Lord and Lady Burnham, Sir Frank and Lady Newnes, Sir Emsley and Lady Carr, Sir Charles and Mrs. Starmer, Sir Patrick McGrath, Sir Arthur Holbrook, Sir George Toulman, Mr. and Mrs. Fairfax, Major and Mrs. Lansell and Miss Neill, Dr., Mrs. and Miss Ellis Powell, the Hon. Williams.

Among the local people present, many of whom had placed their automobiles at the disposal of the guests of honor, were: Lady Barnard, Mrs. H. Barnard, Hon. John Hart and Mrs. Hart, Hon. Dr. King and Mrs. King, the Hon. Chief Justice and Mrs. Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pemberton, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. George Bushby, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cat's Pedestrian Feat

BLOOMFIELD, N.J., Aug. 27.—"Red," Bloomfield's tomcat pedestrian, today curled up on a bag of bran and purred contentedly in the feed store of Lawrence Blamey, his owner, after a hike of 67 miles from a farm which Mr. Blamey sold a year ago. Thinking his pet cat would prefer field mice to those of the feed store variety, Mr. Blamey left "Red" on the farm, but yesterday the feline succeeded in finding the new home of his master.

Saanich Council Refuses to Consider Water Applications as Water By-Law Turned Down

The Saanich Council on Thursday night refused to consider applications for water extensions, on the grounds that the water by-law, authorizing borrowing for such purposes, was turned down by the ratepayers last Saturday. Reeve Watson claimed that the granting of extensions now would be "contrary to the expressed wish of the ratepayers." Councillor Clark wanted to know from Clerk Cowpet what money, if any, was available for water extensions. The clerk could not say offhand, but finances were very near the borderline. No action was taken on the requests for extensions. "We turned that all down Saturday," remarked the Reeve.

DANCING MASTERS TRY "THE WESLEYAN"

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. — The leading dancing masters of Canada and the United States in convention here, have evolved a slow graceful step which they have named "The Wesleyan." They announced this morning that they hoped it might receive the approval of the Methodist Church, the anti-dancing edict of which the convention has deplored each day it has been in session.

The "Cat Step" and the "Camel Walk," two of the most advanced variations of the modern dance, both were tabooed yesterday in a resolution unanimously adopted by the American National Association of Masters of Dancing in convention here.

SKIRTS TO THE KNEES

The new "double panel" frock, which the leading Paris dressmakers intend to launch this Autumn, finishes above the knee. The rest of it is fringe—at the mercy of a puff of wind, and liable to be swung distractingly to one side by any vigorous stride.

The skirt consists of two panels, one above the other, made usually of brocade, which fit somewhat closely to the upper part of the leg, while giving full freedom to the limbs below the knee.

With regard to the upper part of the new style of dress, the only change is that the neck is to be covered—not, however, the chest, which is as exposed as in the prevailing modes. A closely-fitting "dog collar" will encircle the throat above a generous decolletage.

Dressmakers have let their invention play with the design of this decolletage in all sorts of ways. One model that will be shown shortly has a comparatively high corsage in front, but is cut with a low V in the back.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Appointment of a special "rent court" to investigate house and apartment rentals in Winnipeg, and, if feasible, set a limit on landlords' profits, is being considered by the Provincial Government.

B. C. IMPRESSES GREAT JOURNALIST

British Columbia Is Ideal Spot for Old Country People Looking for Place to Settle, Says Lord Burnham

"No part of our trip have I more thoroughly enjoyed than the visit to British Columbia," declared Viscount Burnham, owner of The London Daily Telegraph and head of the Imperial Press party, which arrived in the city yesterday afternoon for a two days' stay before leaving on Sunday on the return trip to the East, and then home to England.

His Lordship was most enthusiastic over the reception which everywhere has been tendered to the delegates from every section of the far-flung Empire who attended the conference at Ottawa. Despite the undoubted strenuousness of the trip, the almost overwhelming attentions paid the visitors, who have been kept on the jump ever since they left Ottawa and have been given hardly a moment to themselves, His Lordship looked exceptionally fit, and declared he had been having the time of his life. Lady Burnham and he have been the life of the party, and every delegate speaks of them in the highest terms.

"What a vast change has occurred in this Province since I was here twenty-six years ago. Then British Columbia was, with the exception of one or two sections on the Coast here, almost a wilderness. Today you have all the facilities of a developed country. Your transportation lines, palatial steamships, magnificent hotels and the evident signs of progress and energy to be seen on all sides tell of a community that has arrived. Coming back again after a quarter of a century, the change is truly amazing."

His Second Visit

His Lordship recalled that on his first visit here he stayed four days at the Coldstream Ranch and saw the first fruit trees planted in the Okanagan section. On the present visit it delighted him to look up old-timers whom he then met, among them being Mr. Henderson, local manager of the Bank of Montreal.

"Generally speaking, anyone is blind who cannot see the great opportunities that exist here for homes for a type of people who, in England, are being crushed out by high prices and the pressure of taxation. To these Canada and, especially, British Columbia, offer a new life. I believe if the opportunities afforded by this Province were better known that class of people would soon come," said His Lordship, who intimated that in his opinion the Province has been backward in making known to the Old Country its attractiveness as a place of settlement. The type which, while not suited to be pioneers, would furnish families in whom British Columbia could well be proud, are available. It is that class, he considers, that should be attracted to this Province, for undoubtedly everyone desired British capital and British settlers.

On the point of capital for the development of the great resources of the Province, Lord Burnham gave it as his opinion that, apart from the present exchange situation, the heavy taxation in England will have the effect of sending capital outside Great Britain for investment, and if a movement is inaugurated to secure a share of that capital that will seek investment British Columbia, with her vast opportunities for development, will undoubtedly get her share. But he sounded a note of warning suggesting that in the past financing of Canadian schemes has not always been of the kind to commend itself to British investors. Many unfortunate schemes, not alone brought forward by Canadians, but also through British exploitation in London, have created some suspicion in the minds of the Old Countryman looking for a safe investment.

Honest Promotion

"What I strongly urge is that the promotion of enterprises and the exploitation of your natural resources should be done on a sound and reliable basis. One failure prevents ten good schemes from securing needed capital."

What struck the distinguished visitor on his return after so many years was the, to him, astonishing development in the utilities and amenities of life as emphasized in the general use of the motor, and, as a natural consequence, the great development in road making, not alone in British Columbia, but throughout the Dominion. And in this connection he commented upon the paved roadway leading to what he termed "the entrancing gardens of Mr. Butchart," the visit yesterday to which he described as one of the most pleasing experiences the party has had on its trip through Canada.

"It is wonderful the beauty of this city of yours. But then, everything is wonderful in Canada, and the more we see of it the more wonderful it seems," exclaimed his lordship with emphasis. "This Island seems to me the very spot for people who, while they may not grow rich, may yet get comfortable homes and have opportunity of putting their sons in the way of earning a good livelihood."

His lordship stated the delegates are all going back home greatly impressed with the general conditions of life in Canada. It seemed to them all as if Canada has a superabundance of good things. In this regard he referred to the way in which, in the utilization of resources such as fish, lumber, etc., so much was allowed to go to waste, a prodigality which, in the Old Land, would never be thought of.

"There is not a member of our party, from Great Britain at any rate, who does not find it a veritable relief and a true recreation to get away from what I may call the stale taste of blood, the terrific strain of the war and pressure of life and anxiety which followed in its wake. Yours is a country in which everyone is looking hopefully to the future, the spirit of enterprise and optimism abounds. It is a land of hope."

shaping the future course of the Empire.

Mr. Farris said that the delegates might feel more at home in British Columbia than in any other section of Canada and especially so on Vancouver Island, with which he compared the little group of islands from which sprang the ideals and institutions that made the British Empire secure and world-embracing. The maritime features of this Province, he said, would exercise a particular appeal to the delegates from the Motherland and from the other island Dominions.

"This idea of people from the various corners of the Empire 'dropping in' to British Columbia is fitting; nay, is very essential," he asserted. "It is this element of cordial relationship furthered by gatherings such as these that makes us feel all the more the existence of a great world-girdling British brotherhood. The visit of the Empire newspapermen to Canada is indeed significant in the history of the British Empire. It is significant of the many great events that have led up to such a tour and of what it promises for the future. The present may be regarded as a connecting link between two important eras."

Mr. Farris Speaks

Mr. Farris recalled the dawn of the great war and the rallying of the Dominions to the defence of Britain and of the Empire, and he referred to the contribution of manpower by British Columbia to the cause of victory over Prussian plans of world conquest.

"There were days when the Empire was in darkness and danger. There were days when the preservation of British institutions seemed almost in doubt," he declared. "But out of the trials and sorrows of the greatest struggle of arms in all history there emerged triumphant a new Empire, stronger than ever, and this triumph is here manifested in the great conference which you have just concluded. The picture of the past is but a suggestion of the future. In the past we have been wont to let the Empire progress haphazardly. That day is gone, and there dawns a new period when the Empire will no longer go forward just accidentally It will be guided in the future by a more thoughtful and intelligent appreciation of conditions prevailing throughout the great imperial chain.

"To all legislatures and parliaments we may well say: 'Hands off the Empire.' But it is not the function of mere laws to attempt to make the people patriotic. The better conception, I believe, is to so fashion laws that they will be so just as to induce voluntary patriotism. Such a conception will lead to a better understanding. We should not overlook altogether the selfish side of Empire. Maintenance of our relationships, political and industrial, is all-important, but it should be kept clear in our minds that loyalty is not a thing that compulsion will create and foster. Voluntary and mutual co-operation, arising from the enforcement of just laws, will lead to the building of an invisible web of love and harmony stronger than iron bonds or any man-made laws."

Nothing Beyond Accomplishment

Response to the toast was voiced by Col. Sir Arthur Holbrook, K.B.E., Mr. F. Crosbie Roles, of Ceylon, and Mr. N. Levi, of South Africa. The first speaker, Col. Holbrook, recently elected to the British House of Commons, declared that he and his colleagues had been staggered by what they had seen during their tour of Canada. "I have witnessed vast industrial plants operating today where only a few years ago their establishment was merely a dream," he said. "Apparently nothing is beyond accomplishment in Canada. You are here imbued with a spirit of progress, enterprise and grit that overcomes all obstacles."

After stating that all the delegates agreed that Victoria was the beauty spot of Canada, Col. Holbrook went on to speak of his disappointment on learning that Esquimalt was no longer a naval base. "I deplore the fact that the dockyard at Esquimalt no longer exists," he said. "I regret exceedingly that British Columbia no longer has a direct association with the British Navy. It is most important that the naval power of the Empire should be impressed upon the world and especially upon the Dominions overseas. There has always been a desire in certain quarters to keep down to the limit expenditures for the navy and the army. It is not necessary that every man should be a fighting man, but provision should be made to maintain an army and navy at all times capable of bearing the responsibility of safeguarding the greatest Empire the world has ever known. I maintain that the supremacy of the British navy is the greatest asset the British Empire has today, and it must be maintained."

Referring to the chairman's allusion to the need for British capital, Col. Holbrook stressed that those desiring financial assistance for the development of this country's resources should make their appeal on the spot. He said that the education system of British Columbia had deeply impressed him, especially the facilities for agricultural training.

South Africa's Attitude

Mr. N. Levi, speaking as a representative of a portion of the Dutch newspapers of South Africa, recalled the declaration of Premier Jan Smuts to the effect that British connection was of distinct advantage to South Africa, and to similar statements of the late Premier Louis Botha. He declared that in his belief the Dutch population of South Africa stood for a specific brand of imperialism which welcomed the assimilation of peoples to an appreciation of their institutions. He declared that a progressive movement was now going on in his Dominion which would strengthen it immeasurably and at the same time avoid interference with the close co-operation between the inhabitants and their brothers in other parts of the Empire.

Mr. F. Crosbie Roles, of Ceylon, made a plea for tolerance of the East Indian. He pointed out that Canada, in common with other Dominions, would welcome the opportunity of trading with India and Ceylon when more admirable facilities for commercial exchange were created, and he said that the cultivation of a kindlier feeling towards races that appeared to have little in common with Canadians was in the best interests of Canada, from a business as well as an imperial standpoint.

Speaking of the democracy that was Britain's, Mr. Roles compared the political status of the Government with that of the United States, where President Wilson's appeal to the people for return of a Democratic Senate last year represented a deliberate attempt to scuttle coalition, a move that might be held as responsible for many of the world's agonies witnessed during the intervening period.

Viscount Burnham, president of the Empire Press Union, was called upon by the chairman to make a few remarks prior to the close of the banquet, and he responded amid applause.

At Ultimate Gateway

"At last," he declared, "we are at the ultimate gateway to the Pacific. The achievements of Canada are written large in the pages of Empire history, and the most glorious pages of all refer to her wonderful participation in the war. What Canada has once done can never be forgotten.

"No matter how threatening the future may be, we have been convinced during our tour through Canada and by the statements heard from every side that the last thing that could happen would be a movement by Canada to detach itself from the Imperial whole. In our travels we did not hear a word, or witness a single sign to separate, or any desire to annex anywhere except more strongly than ever to the British Empire. We have not observed any tendency towards a weakening of faltering in Imperial loyalty. From all this we have gained infinite encouragement. Long after the material features fade from our mind we will recognize that there is in actuality an Imperial spirit that moves the whole mass, that actuates the minds and hearts of all who are proud to subscribe themselves to the greatest Empire the world has ever seen. So long as that spirit exists, we need not worry about constitutional machinery and cefemony. We in the Motherland know that we can at all times count on the constant friendship of the loyal citizens of this Dominion, the first and greatest member of the Empire, and in that knowledge we may rest content."

Viscount Burnham concluded his address by calling for a toast to the Lieut.-Governor, which was accorded with enthusiasm. A toast to British Columbia was followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

YORKSHIRE EDITOR SPEAKS OF EUROPE

Alderman Woodhead, of Huddersfield Examiner, Thinks Influence of Lloyd George Is Now on the Wane

One of the first men met by Alderman Ernest Woodhead, of the Imperial Press Conference, when he stepped off the Princess Charlotte yesterday, was Alderman Fullerton, of this city. The two men had not met for more than thirty-five years, having been schoolboys together in Yorkshire. And in the midst of their mutual congratulations along came Mr. J. S. Yates, a well-known member of the local bar, and hailed in the person of the Yorkshire publisher his fellow-student of Edinburgh University. These old friends had not met for thirty-seven years, and the three partisans of the White Rose celebrated in reminiscences of old times their foregathering in the most western outpost of their mutual flag.

Alderman Woodhead is the publisher and principal proprietor of The Huddersfield Examiner, one of the best-known daily papers of Northern England. He is now deputy mayor of the city of Huddersfield, and was formerly chief magistrate of the great cloth-weaving town of Yorkshire. He is otherwise known to fame as the librettist of the light operas, "Robin Hood," "The Royal Jest," and "The Pink Elephant." Among the golfing fraternity of the Yorkshire dales he is known to wield a potent and cunning club.

Alderman Woodhead had just come in from the motor trip taken by the members of his party yesterday to Mr. Butchart's gardens at Tod Inlet. He said it was one of the most beautiful things he had seen in all his transcontinental trip in the land of the Maple Leaf, and he added that that was high praise from anyone who had had the privilege of making the journey which has concluded its westernmost objective in reaching this city.

An Asquithian Liberal

The Huddersfield publisher is a strong Asquithian Liberal. He spoke with affection and esteem of the former British Premier, and present leader of those unbending and incorruptible adherents of the classic British Liberalism who have not bowed the knee to the Baal of coalition. He said that a great reaction of sentiment regarding Mr. Asquith was now sweeping over the British political field. He thought that Mr. Lloyd George's star of popularity was on the wane; but that there was no man in political life in the Old Country at the present time who could immediately step into the shoes of the British Premier.

Mr. Woodhead has strong views with respect to the peace treaty of Versailles. He says that the real peace, the peace for which all the world bled, and the youth and courage of the Empire died, remains to be signed, sealed and delivered to the suffering peoples of Europe. He says that the position of France is the tragedy of all those hopes that have been entertained for a new world built on the ruins of the old. He thought that the key to the political psychology of France was to be found in the fear still entertained in that country of the revenge of Germany. He says that France has drunk deep of the poisonous wells of revenge on her traditional enemy, and that now all her diplomacy and international politics were dictated by the one thought that she must at all costs prevent the same cup from reaching the lips of her now prostrate foe.

An Unstable Peace

Mr. Woodhead is no admirer of the part played by Mr. Lloyd George in recent and contemporary European history. He says that the British Premier permitted the chauvinists of France to dictate an unstable and hopeless peace. He says that the attitude of the Allies towards Russia has been consistently wrong, and that the whole of the recent Polish adventure is a blot upon the statesmanship of those who now govern Europe. He was emphatic in his assertion that Poland had been incited to the invasion of Russia by France, and that the British Government had been wanting in not taking a firmer position of resistance to what he regards as a suicidal adventure.

Mr. Woodhead says that the British Liberal party has still its mission to perform. He does not believe it can become the majority party of the Old Country in the near future, but he professes to observe that the political pendulum is swinging back from the extreme position reflected by the majority membership of the present British House of Commons. He thinks that the immediate future belongs to the Labor Party, and that the influence of that party, both in home and international affairs will provide the needed corrective to the evils he deplores.

THINKING TOO MUCH?

Modernity is wallowing in self-analysis. The disease is as contagious as smallpox, but is far more difficult to throw off.

Physical vivisection is a pleasant and gentle process beside this new mental vivisection.

No corner of the mind is sacred. Thought becomes a surgeon's probe, and conversation takes on the character of a clinical lecture. It never seems to occur to any one that there is something a little indelicate in this public undressing and tending of the mind.

In all art, and especially in literature, the analysis fever is raging furiously. There is not an emotion, impulse, or desire that is not turned about and questioned, stripped of its decent coverings, and displayed, quivering and naked, to a curious world.

We talk and think like a Russian novelist.

There are no new emotions in this old, experienced world. The soul-shattering revelations that come to the modern mind have come in just the same way to a million former minds. Our forefathers believed in action.

If an ancestor was troubled with jealousy he went out and broke his rival's head. But we sit down and talk about it. If we are poets, we write reams of horribly intimate self-revelation.

Are we becoming pale shadows of our former lusty selves? Can there be any true mental health when there is so much diagnosis and doctoring?

Self-consciousness and egotism flourish apace in the moderns. We refuse to merge ourselves in the mob. What was good enough for our fathers is most certainly not good enough for us. We are so absorbedly busy examining our individual mental processes that the race can go hang.

There is much to be said for the primitive, direct mind. It has simplicity and strength. It does not think too much. It is content to be.—U. H., in London Daily News.

Government Illegalities

What authority has the Chancellor of the Exchequer for remitting income-tax upon the official salaries of members of Parliament? We certainly do not grudge members the concession. Regarded as a salary for work done, the £400 a year is almost contemptible in these days, and can easily be absorbed in unavoidable expenses. Even so, we ask who sanctions the allowance and treats the salary as free from income-tax? Apparently the whole thing is done departmentally, without regard to any authority that Parliament may possess. Then, again, we would ask under what Act is the Government proposing to prevent the landing on British soil of Archbishop Mannix? We see the statement made that he will be allowed to land in England, if not in Ireland, and that suggests that somebody has looked into the legal text-books. We would be prepared to admit that Archbishop Mannix is a mischievous man, but the prevention of a British subject landing on British soil is a thing that requires some legal sanction behind it. Things that were done with impunity under the pressure of war are not to be done in peace, and we cannot afford to destroy an elementary right of the citizen because we do not like a particular man.—Westminster Gazette.

SOLE WOMAN DELEGATE WITH PRESS PARTY

Miss M. F. Billington Tried Her Skill in Fleet Street at Invitation of Late J. Passmore Edwards

Miss Mary Frances Billington, who comes with the imperial Press Conference as the only woman delegate and representative of the Society of Women Journalists, is a Fellow of the Institute of Journalists, and has an interesting record in her chosen profession.

Only daughter of the late Rev. J. H. Billington, M.A., rector of Chalbury, Dorsetshire, her first journalistic contributions were to The Globe. The attention of the late Mr. J. Passmore Edwards was attracted by some articles which she sent to The Echo (which has since discontinued publication), when he owned the paper, and he invited her to go to London and test her skill in Fleet Street. She next went for a short time to The Daily Graphic; then to The Daily Telegraph. The offer of a staff appointment in the Diamond Jubilee year came about this time, and subsequently she had much interesting experience as special correspondent, being entrusted with some very important missions. Among these was a visit to India, into the North-west Frontier country and the Nepal. She was present at the Imperial Durbar, Delhi, in 1911.

In 1913 she was created president of the Society of Women Journalists, holding office until last year, despite the rule of precedent which made the office but of one year's duration. It was during her term of office that the Queen sent to the society liberal gifts of money and clothing to help any who might have suffered from the effects of the war.

She has had a number of books published: "Woman in India," which came out in 1895; "Women in Journalism," 1903; "The Red Cross in War," written for The Daily Telegraph series of war books in 1914; and "The Roll Call of Serving Women," written in 1915. She edited also one of her brother's books, "A Mule Driver at the Front."

Large Field for Women

Miss Billington holds the opinion that there is a large field for women journalists in the weekly and popular press of England. A sound education and a general knowledge of politics and commerce, however, she regards as essential groundings. She does not think the women can "cover" with equal readiness or ability any and all assignments that are given men. Editors ordinarily would never send out a woman on a murder or other case of the kind. But the human interest story may be quite capably handled by them, such as colliery disasters, railway accidents, etc.

In a recent interview, Miss Billington said that it was entierly owing to Lord Burnham that women had been given representation on the Imperial Press Conference. She told at the same time some of the good work done by the National Union of Journalists, which had obtained a minimum wage of £8 per week for its members. As a principle the members of this union wanted it to apply to women as well as men, but in actual practice it happens that most of the women do not join the union and therefore are not in a position to claim its benefits. One reason for the distinction between the recognition accorded the woman entering journalism in England was that most of the men came with some special qualification, such as shorthand, which would make them fitted for good verbatim reporters. The girls, on the other hand, mostly came without training.

WILL NOT CONSTRUCT NICKEL ROLLING MILL

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 27.—J. L. Agnew, vice-president of the International Nickel Company, said yesterday that there was nothing in the report published a few days ago that a three-million-dollar rolling plant will be established by the nickel company at Sudbury, Copper Cliff or Port Colborne.

This project had been mooted for some time, he said, owing to the inconvenience which the company had sustained from having to send the metal to customs mills at Bayonne, N.J., to undergo the rolling process, but it was considered that the construction of such a plant in Canada, especially in the Sudbury district, at the present time, would be impracticable.

BRILLIANT WEATHER; INDIFFERENT FISHING

Better Quality of Boats Might Insure More Profitable Operations at Points on West Coast

CLAYOQUOT, Aug. 25.—We have been inundated with most perfect weather, glorious sunshine, a gentle breeze, a cloudless sky, a waveless sea. No mortal could contemplate the beautiful scenic panorama in this harbor, under such ideal conditions, without concluding that here surely must be the most enchanting spot that nature has produced.

Fishing, so far as salmon trolling is concerned, has been quiet; in fact, there are few such fishermen now in the immediate vicinity. At this period of the season the salmon go further out to sea, and unless the boats go far enough out they return disappointed, bringing the melancholy news, "No fish." The probability, however, is that if they had gone just a little further out, they would have been rewarded with good catches. The truth of this was well illustrated on Friday last, when a boat came in with a fair catch of halibut, and reported that spring salmon had been following them up in great numbers all day. The men had been fishing some twenty to twenty-five miles out to sea.

Bigger Boats Necessary

This leads up to a consideration of the question as to whether the present average size trolling boat is large enough to ensure the most successful results under the changing conditions so common to this Coast. It was noted that several Japs this season had larger and better equipped boats, and thus were able to go out fishing when the smaller boats were compelled to remain idly in the harbor, proving that the larger boat is a better money-making agency than the smaller. Many close observers have repeatedly stated that spring salmon can be caught off this Coast all the year round if not within, certainly a few miles out of, this Sound, and this, if correct, indicates that not yet have the bulk of the trolling fishermen realized that to obtain the fullest results they must dispose of their small boats and get the larger class previously referred to. Fishermen, like any other class of workers, must look ahead and not be content with working only a comparatively small portion of the year. Providence has undoubtedly supplied a bountiful supply of fish, and the fishermen can, with superior equipment and the true "fishermanlike" doggedness and ability, treble their earning capacity.

New Customs Officer

Word has been officially received announcing the appointment of Mr. E. W. Abraham, of Vargas Island, as the customs officer for this port. This is a popular appointment, as Mr. Abraham, besides being a returned soldier, is a local man. When the Great War first broke out "Ted", was one of the very first to leave for Victoria to join up to do his part. His brother Arthur also went with him, but, alas, it was destined that one was to be "taken and the other left," for Arthur made the supreme sacrifice. Both were splendid examples of true patriotism. So far as the appointment is concerned, Mr. Abraham was by far the best suited of all the local applicants, and all who know him will wish him every success.

The S.S. Princess Maquinna, commanded by Capt. E. Gillam, arrived here on Sunday last in brilliant weather. She carried a full complement of stateroom passengers, most of whom were tourists from various parts of Canada and the States making the round trip. This trip has now practically become the best, and certainly the cheapest, trip of any on this Coast. The Maquinna is a beautifully appointed boat, and, what is just as important, all the officers are most attentive and obliging, a combination which ensures the utmost benefit to every passenger.

LIBRARIANS WILL HOLD MEETING IN NANAIMO

Convention Will Be Attended by Prominent Members and Addresses Delivered—Success of Local Institution

NANAIMO, Aug. 27.—Though the Public Library was inaugurated only six months ago, Nanaimo is to be honored by the annual convention of the British Columbia Library Association some time in October and November. Miss Helen Stewart, Librarian of the Victoira City Library, has written Mr. J. C. McGuffie, the local librarian, that library experts will be present from Victoria and Vancouver, and possibly from Seattle. The afternoon programme will probably be a conference on children's books and reading courses. This will be an appropriate subject for Nanaimo, as the children's avidity for children's books and their large attendance at the Library rooms have been marked features since the Library opening last February.

Miss Jameson, of Vancouver, a member of the City Library Board, is president of the British Columbia Association. Under the Library Act of last session, a commission now has oversight of all public libraries and the creation of new ones. The honorary commissioners are Professor Sedgwick, of B. C. University, Mr. Jackson, M.P.P., and Miss Helen Stewart, the executive secretary being Mr. Henry Killam. One or two of these will probably address the evening session of the convention.

The bridal couple will honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle before taking up their home in Victoria.

BATHING ACCIDENTS

Points That Should Be Remembered by Campers-Out

For the benefit of campers-out in the United States a leading American doctor has worked out a very simple and yet quite satisfactory mode of treatment of persons rescued from the water. Here are the points, which are not difficult to remember:

As soon as the patient is out of the water, place him face downwards on the ground, with the arms extended well above the head. Turn the head a little to one side, open the mouth, and put a piece of wood, or anything similar, between the teeth.

Now straddle across the body, grasp at the waist, and lift up as much as possible. Hold up for a few moments so that any water which is in the lungs may run out. Two people might help to raise the body if one should not be strong enough. In any case, it is very important to free the lungs from water at the earliest possible moment.

The treatment for restoring respiration may now be started. This is quite simple, and consists in grasping the lower part of the chest firmly with both hands, then squeezing as hard as possible, and letting go rather suddenly.

This movement is to be repeated about fifteen or twenty times to the minute. Where there are several helpers turns may be taken in the work. However hopeless the case may appear to be, keep on this treatment until a doctor arrives.

The first efforts at breathing on the part of the patient may come in a few minutes or, in a bad case, an hour or more may elapse. Naturally where a person has been nearly drowned one sends for a medical man at once, but some time may pass before his arrival. Whether a person is treated in the right way in the early stages may make all the difference between life and death.

Directly regular breathing is established it is important to get the patient into bed between the blankets. To counteract the effects of the chill there is no better drink than hot lemonade.

DEMPSEY IS HARD ON SPARRING PARTNERS

Champion Knocks Colored Heavies About for Several Rounds—Miske Has Fast Set-to With Johnny Tillman

BENTON, HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 27.—Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske varied their attack in training today for their heavyweight championship contest a week from Monday. The champion gave his three sparring partners a severe pommeling, while Miske's aim was mainly to gain speed. The spectators at the Miske camp were given a snappy exhibition when the challenger went two speedy rounds with Johnny Tillman, Minneapolis welterweight.

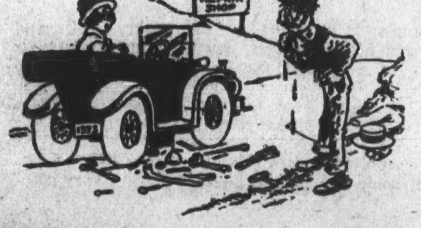

Bill Tate, the 230-pound negro, faced the champion first. After Tate had been badly punished about the body, Panama Joe Gans stood up under a severe bombardment for two rounds, and then Dempsey finished with two rounds against Marty Farrell, Pacific Coast middleweight.

Three Players Tie for Dominion Golf Title

THREE ARE TIED FOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Dave Black, of Shaughnessy, Came Fourth in Big Tournament—Armour, Murray and Edgar Play Off

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—T. D. Armour, of Edinburgh; Chas. R. Murray, Montreal, and Douglas Edgar, of Atlanta, Ga., present holder of the title, will fight it out in a three-ball match on the Rivermead golf club course tomorrow afternoon for the Canadian national open golf championship. In the annual tournament of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, which was to have concluded today, Armour, Edgar and Murray finished in a triple tie, each having a score of 298 for the four rounds of 18 holes. They will drive off the first tee tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. in a match that will decide the championship. Dave Black, of the Shaughnessy Heights Club, finished fourth with a card of 301, three strokes behind Armour, Edgar and Murray.

George Ayton, the Regina professional, who led the field on the first day's play, wound up fifth with a grand total of 302. Karl Keffer, of the Royal Ottawas, ranked next with 303, and there were four ties right after Keffer, as Louis Tellier, of Boston; Nichol Thompson, of Hamilton; George Shaw, of Brockville, and Frank Adams, of Winnipeg, each turned in cards of 305. W. J. Thompson, Toronto, was next on the honor list with 306. Armour has the best score among the amateurs, and will carry off the gold medal offered by the Royal Canadian Golf Association and the cup donated by Sir Arthur Currie. A great gallery witnessed the second day's play, and, while there were no phenomenal scores, they were much better than on the preceding day.

Fine weather again prevailed and the picturesque course of the Rivermead Club was again in beautiful condition. Hundreds followed the famous golfers around and in the afternoon one of the most interested spectators was His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire.

First Day's Honors

George Ayton, a brawny young Scot, who came all the way from Regina, carried off the first day's honors in the annual open championship tournament of the Royal Canadian Golf Association which commenced Thursday over the course of the Rivermead Club. With a card of 147 for the round of 18-hole medal play, Ayton finished two up over T. D. Armour, the famous Edinburgh amateur, and Nichol Thompson, of the Hamilton Golf Club; Charlie Murray, of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, and Stanley Thompson, a Toronto amateur, tied for the next position with cards of 150, while J. Douglas Edgar, of Atlanta, Ga., the present open champion of Canada, ranked next with 151, being tied with N. A. Bell and George Cummings, both of Toronto.

Karl Keffer, of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, another former Canadian national champion, was next with 152, while William McLuckie, of Kaniwaki, last year's amateur champion, and K. Marsh, of London, were close on the heels of Keffer with 153 each. Albert Murray and C. Fraser, Kaniwaki, stood next with 154. Frank Adams, of Winnipeg, finished with a score of 159, while J. B. Kinnear, also of Winnipeg, 161, and D. L. Black, of Vancouver, with 157.

CLUB BUILDING WILL BE MOST LUXURIOUS

Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, Are Providing Cumberland With Fine Home for Athletic Club

CUMBERLAND, Aug. 27.—Cumberland will in the near future possess an athletic club building which, while it will not occupy as large an area of floor space as similar buildings elsewhere, will, from the point of view of completeness and accommodation, surpass any of them. This building is to be erected by the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Limited, and the total cost of the hall and furnishings will be in the neighborhood of $37,000, all of which will be borne by the company. The Athletic Club building will be erected on the land between the company's offices and the City Hall. The building will stand about 40 feet from the sidewalk, which will allow ample space for the planting of shrubs and trees.

The over-all dimensions of the building are 32x60 feet, and it is a two-story building. The first floor is laid out as follows:

The entrance hall is 16x12. The library is circular in shape, and has a diameter of 17 feet. The reading-room is 16x22, and contains a large open hearth fireplace. The writing-room is 11x16. Between the reading and writing rooms a corridor leads to the lecture hall, 26x31, which contains a raised platform and seating accommodation for 117 people. There is a cloakroom and lavatory accommodation off the entrance hall. From the entrance hall a staircase leds down to the ground floor, the whole of which is divided up for two purposes, one portion being a billiard-room and poolroom and the other a gymnasium, containing full lavatory accommodation, including shower baths. Below this will be a basement containing the heating apparatus, which will be a hot water system.

The exterior will be an Elizabethan front, following the old English lines, running up with a tower effect, the front gable resembling the old English stucco and timber construction.

The furnishings will be well in accordance with the building, and the institution will fill a long-felt want in Cumberland.

The architect is Mr. W. A. Owen, the company's construction engineer.

Tenders will be called for the construction of the building next week.

At 5 p.m.—Miss Wood and Miss Thorpe play Miss Dudgeon and Miss Parkyn.

Junglof, of Sweden, by one and one-half lengths in the single sculls, and Kelly and Paul Costello, in the double sculls without coxswains, won from Haas and Veth, of Holland, by two and a half lengths. The time in these events was the fastest of the day.

The American midshipmen eight defeated the Belgians by four lengths, leading all the way. The English eight won its heat in 7sec. faster time than the midshipmen. The Swiss team had a good chance to win from the English until the coxswain swerved from the course while the oarsmen were spurting for the finish

Scarlet or Khaki

A recruiting sergeant attired in the full panoply of the lancer or the hussar will surely bring more men to the colors in time of peace than an equally earnest recruiter clad in khaki. There is much hard fighting still before the British Army, or the signs of the times are misleading. Therefore, in times of peace, let Tommy look his best, for, despite the patriotism of which we all boast, and which most of us really possess, the dull monotony of khaki will form no great inducement for a young fellow to offer his services for the benefit of his country, a service that possesses few attractions beyond the clash of the band and the dash of the dress.—Johannesburg Times.

SAYS BASEBALL IS CURE FOR BOLSHEVISM

President Burnett, of Pacific International League, Thinks Game Is Permanent Remedy for Mental Unrest

TACOMA, Aug. 27.—"Men whose minds are unoccupied tend towards destruction instead of construction, and when they witness baseball games, read the scores and discuss the standing of the various clubs and players, it serves to keep them from talking destruction of our government.

"There have been no deportations by the Federal Government of Reds, anarchists, I. W. W.'s or Bolsheviks since the baseball season opened. Cannot we, then, point to our great national game as one of the permanent cures for mental unrest, for mental unrest most surely leads to destructive thoughts."

This is a message from Louis H. Burnett, Tacoma business man and community leader, who has applied practical business methods and business sense to the business of baseball. As president of the Pacific International League, Louis Burnett has watched the progress of baseball not only in Washington and British Columbia, but its effect over the nation as a whole, and says that baseball and Bolshevism do not go hand in hand.

"Baseball is the cure for Bolshevism in the idle mind," says President Burnett, "and the idle mind will be trained to higher ideals and better citizenship through a few hours an afternoon at the ball game."

The Pacific International League was organized this year through the activities of Mr. Burnett and his friends. The season has been unusually successful with the promise that 1921 will find the P. I. L. on a firm foundation. Tacoma, Seattle, Yakima, Spokane, with the British Columbia cities of Victoria and Vancouver, are now represented in the league, with the possibility that the league will be raised from six to eight or ten clubs in the near future.

UNPLEASANT AFFAIR OCCURS AT ANTWERP

ANTWERP, Aug. 27.—The "booing" of the British National Anthem at the conclusion of today's water polo match, in which England won a closely-fought game from the Belgian team resulted in the British representatives calling a meeting of the representatives of all nations competing in the Olympiad tonight. A protest was made over what was termed a "national insult," and it brought a promise of the publication in tomorrow's official programme and in the Antwerp newspapers of an apology, which will be made on behalf of the Belgian Olympic committee. The American representatives attended the meeting. The incident occurred at the conclusion of the gala day of the swimming competitions. The Belgian Princess Marie Jose occupied the royal box. The British Black Watch military and piper bands played.

The feelings of the spectators were manifest early in the water polo contest, when each adverse decision against the Belgian team by the Swedish referee occasioned prolonged booing from the Belgian supporters. This was heightened when two Belgian players and one Englishman were disqualified for fouling. The Princess was leaving the royal box just as the Union Jack, proclaiming the English victory, was being raised and the band was playing "God Save the King."

Those who saw the Princess continued their cheering, but a majority of the thousands present, ignoring the attempt of the Belgian officials to quiet the demonstration, booed and hissed even after the band had finished.

Then and Now

When Prince Louis Napoleon, the only son of the ex-Empress Eugenie, volunteered for service in South Africa, all England was thrilled by the story of how a British camp at Isandula had been overwhelmed by 15,000 Zulus and by the gallant defence of Rorke's Drift. In these days of wireless telegraphy it is hard to realize the news of these stupendous events, occurring on January 22, 1879, did not reach this country for days afterwards, and then only by a brief telegram from an island in the Atlantic where a home-coming steamer called. There was no telegraphic communication with South Africa, and the present writer, with other journalists, went to Plymouth to await the incoming vessel for the full story. It was at daybreak on a wild February morning that we put off on a tender to board the steamer and rapidly pick up the news, which was immediately telegraphed to London, and a special edition of The Daily Chronicle was published about breakfast time.—London Daily Express.

Olbs Receive First Defeat of the Week

Fellow-Townsmen Inflict Beating on Bancroft's Hitherto Invincible Eleven—Four Teams Now Even—Semi-Finals to Be Played Today by Five C's, Incogs, Olbs and Victoria

The centre of interest in the cricket tournament was at the Jubilee Hospital ground yesterday, where Vancouver and Vancouver Olbs were due to meet. Until yesterday the Olbs had won all their matches, but, as the result of yesterday's play, they are now on an even footing with three other teams, as, contrary to all expectations, they were rather easily defeated by their fellow townsmen.

There are now four teams with only one defeat registered against them, namely, the Five C's, Incogs, Olbs and Victoria, and it has been arranged that two semi-final matches will be played today and the final on Monday. The Five C's will meet the Incogs and the Olbs will play Victoria today and the winners of these two matches will try conclusions on Monday.

Yesterday morning the rain was coming down in torrents, and, although with the rising of a strong wind the rain held off, it was decidedly colder than might have been wished for cricket, and the strong wind did not add to the enjoyment of either players or spectators. The rain of the morning made a late start necessary.

In the match at the Jubilee Hospital ground between Vancouver and the Olbs, Vancouver were first to go in and they made the very useful score of 195, Illingworth being high man with 38. Nelson hit merrily for his 34 and everybody on the side made something.

The Olbs' inning started disastrously, L. W. Peel being caught at the wicket when the total was only 2. Leigh, Peers and Bancroft went in and out in a rather rapid procession, and 5 wickets were down for 30. Eaton-Shore and Ivamy stopped the rot for a while, and looked as though they might possibly retrieve the situation, but the former was tricked by a soft looking one into going out of his ground and being stumped, and no one else could stay with Ivamy, who was not out, 44. Hudson took Dyke's and Mends' wickets in successive balls before either had scored, and Cooper was dismissed by Reed, also without scoring. Illingworth had the bowling honors as well as the batting honors, taking 5 wickets for 28 runs.

Great Bowling Feat

The Five C's gave the Garrison a disastrous beating at Work Point, the score being 191 runs to 54, and the game was remarkable for the brilliant bowling of Wilkinson, who had the splendid analysis of 10 wickets for 14 runs, of which 8 were clean bowled, the others being l.b.w. Wilkinson brought the match to a dramatic conclusion by doing the hat trick with the last three balls he bowled. He had four maidens, and his last four wickets only cost one run.

E. H. Pendray, Capt. Sharp and W. Gibson, of the Five C's, who were members of the St. Lucien contingent in the late war, were the principal scorers, getting 51, 36 and 29, respectively.

For the Garrison, Capt. Clarke was the only batsman who could do anything with the bowling of Wilkinson, and he made 25. Major Cobbet was beaten by Wilkinson when he had made 9. No less than six of the Garrison batsmen failed to make any runs.

Nanaimo Wins Again

Nanaimo won again, defeating the Congos at Beacon Hill, with a score of 128 to 67. Hines, 39, and Jepson, 21, were the principal scorers for Nanaimo, while Tucker, 37, and Kirkham 16, made the most runs for the Congos. The game was featureless, but Westwood had the good bowling analysis of 6 wickets for 28 runs. Kinch Makes Century

Centuries are getting to be everyday occurrences in Victoria cricket, and yesterday Kinch, of the Incogs, kept up the good work by making 101 against the Cowichan bowlers, the full score of his side being 220, Verrall getting 38 and Tunnard 25. Kinch played himself in by careful cricket, his first 23 hits being all singles except one. After that he hit out more freely and included eleven fours in the rest of his innings. The Cowichan batsmen were not at all at home with Tracey's lobs, and the Incogs' underhand bowler took 7 of their wickets for 47 runs. The score:

LEARD'S MEN MAKE IT FIVE STRAIGHT

Young Wins His Second Victory of Week by Blanking Seattle Giants—Get Early Lead Off Tom Kelly

Victoria humbled the Seattle Giants again yesterday, old Cyrus Young shutting them out with five hits, while his colleagues swatted the offerings of their former mate Tom Kelly to all corners of the field. Fourteen base hits were gathered in by the Capitals, and they were good for five runs. The result was never in doubt.

Tiny Thomas Kelly had a very mediocre assortment of slants yesterday, and he failed to hold Leard's men in check. They got the hitting habit right at the outset and kept it up all through the game. A three-run lead was obtained in the first inning, increased by one in the second and by one more in the eighth, when Clarence Zienke walloped the ball out of the park for his second home-run in two days.

Everyone Got a Hit

Everyone in the Victoria batting order, except Young, faced Kelly in the first inning, and almost everyone contributed to the damage inflicted. Elliott waited Kelly out and was rewarded with a base on balls. Leard shot a single to left and both advanced on Brown's one-base drive. Carman smote the ball into deep centre and didn't come up until he had reached third, but he was called out for failure to touch second. He had driven in three runs, however. Church and Zienke both got on the bases after that, but Cunningham popped up to Sherritt for the third out.

Kelly handed Victoria its fourth run. Young took first when Hoffman dropped Kelly's throw. He stole second when Elliott missed the third strike and the ball rolled back to the stands. He sprinted on to third when Boelsle sent in a wild peg to second base to stop him there, and he trotted in on a wild pitch. Leard followed with a single to right and Carman poled out a one-bagger to left, and both advanced on a wild pitch. They were left on the paths when Dempsey fanned.

Victoria almost added another tally in the fourth. Carter Elliott doubled to centre and went to third on Leard's hit in the same direction. Carman flew out to centre and Herb Cuyler made a perfect throw in. Boelsle cut Carty off at the plate.

"Toots" Too Eager

Over-eagerness on the part of "Toots" Brown prevented further scoring in the seventh. Brown started the attack with a double to right, the ball glancing off the fence and out of Reid's control. He went to third on Carman's out and tried to make home on the same play, but Hoffman accepted the throw from Grant and whipped the ball home in time to head him off.

Zienke's home run in the eighth came with no one on the bases.

The only hazardous session for Cy Young was the seventh, when he commenced to take things easy. He walked Harry Hoffman and after striking out Boelsle let Robcke smack out a single to right, and Sherritt a one-base blow to centre, filling the bases. Jimmy Shannon sent a scorching liner towards Church, who made a clean pick-up and shot the ball home, where Hoffman was tagged for the second out. Kelly ended the spell of anxiety by flying out to Carman.

Leard and Sherritt starred in the field, Sherritt handling no less than eight putouts at second base. Everyone on the Victoria line-up, except Young, got a base hit, Cunningham and Leard leading with three safeties apiece. Sherritt was the only Giant to get more than a single hit. Today's game starts at 2 o'clock.

MRS. BRYANT GAINS 14 POUNDS ON 4 BOTTLES

Vancouver Woman Was So Bad Off With Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism, She Had to Spend Most of Her Time in Bed Before She Got Tanlac.

"If I had only known Tanlac could make me so well and happy I would have taken it long before I did," said Mrs. H. Bryant, a highly esteemed resident of 880 Georgia Street East, Vancouver, who, in relating her wonderful experience with the medicine, also reported a gain of fourteen pounds in weight on four bottles.

"Six years ago, or more, my appetite left me, my stomach started bothering me, and at the time I commenced taking Tanlac, five or six weeks ago, I was eating barely enough to keep soul and body together.

"Even the smell of food would nauseate me, and after every meal I suffered torture from indigestion. I would almost suffocate from the gas on my stomach. The pains in my chest were so severe and I had such violent spells of palpitation that I could hardly stand it. Why, I could actually hear by heart beat, and was afraid of being taken away some day with heart trouble. I couldn't walk a few blocks or climb a little grade without just gasping for breath.

"For the past few years I have not known what it was to go through a whole day without a headache, and some days I had it so bad I was almost frantic. My back hurt me so bad I couldn't stoop over, and I was so weak and nervous I didn't dare go on the streets alone. I also had rheumatism in my shoulders and arms, and some days the pains were so intense that I couldn't even put my waist on.

"I could never get a good night's sleep, and at the time I began taking Tanlac I was so worn-out and weak I had to spend most of my time in bed. I had read and heard a good deal about Tanlac, but never thought about it being what I needed until my husband brought me a bottle and asked me to try it.

"I certainly was overjoyed when, after taking a few doses, I found I was feeling better. Well, the good four bottles have done me hardly seems possible. I have gained fourteen pounds in weight and am feeling as well as I ever did in my life, and I mean to say by that that I haven't a sign of stomach trouble or an ache or a pain of any kind. I eat hearty of just anything I want, do my housework with ease, and sleep like a child every night. Tanlac has made life worth living for me, and my gratitude is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, Druggist, and in Esquimalt at Lang's Drug Store. (Advt.)

ALL-BRITISH NEWS SERVICE NECESSITY

Sir Roderick Jones, Head of Famous Reuter's Agency, Points to Need of Change in Present Conditions

Nothing will more tend to bind together the Motherland and the various portions of the overseas Dominions than a British news service distributed through British sources, in the opinion of Sir Roderick Jones, chairman and managing director of the great Reuter's news agency, the leading and, undoubtedly, the most famous enterprise of its kind in the world today. A member of the Imperial press party which arrived here yesterday, Sir Roderick is also on his honeymoon trip, having been married shortly before he left England.

"The thing that strikes me forcibly on this, my first, trip to Canada is the excellence of your newspapers, both in the large cities and in the towns. For the size of many of your towns, your papers are, I consider, excellent to a degree. But the fact remains that so much of your news from Great Britain and from the other Dominions comes through United States channels. There is, of course, the economic reason, which is a very potent one, and I would be the last to criticize the existing condition. Indeed, it would be presumption for me to do so; but here you are, the greatest Dominion in the Empire, without a direct cable news service to England. It seems incongruous that such a condition should exist."

Unhealthy Condition

While he would not suggest that there can be anything said against the manner in which the Old Country news is handled through its present United States channels, and believing that that service appears perfectly honest, yet it stands to reason, Sir Roderick stated yesterday, that the American point of view cannot be that of Great Britain or of Canada. This is all the more apparent in view of the closer ties which bind the Motherland and the Dominion because of the war and the tremendous sacrifices borne and burdens endured together in the common cause. This need of a direct British news service was emphasized at the recent Imperial press conference, and, Sir Roderick stated, the opinion was unanimous that an all-British service was an Imperial necessity.

"It is primarily a question of finance," said Sir Roderick, who, however, believed that an adequate service could be operated for from £20,000 to £30,000 per annum. "I am going to make it a point before I leave Canada to see and prove that such a service can be inaugurated. I am satisfied, from what Canadian editors have spontaneously said to me, that they are fully conscious of the necessity of such a service."

Sir Roderick referred to the necessity of maintaining the British sentiment and British mode of thought. He pointed to the possibility of propaganda through the medium of the cable and the moving picture film, and stated that from his observations throughout Canada there was undoubtedly in evidence an American propaganda, not necessarily designed, but none the less effective, through the fact that Empire news is disseminated through American channels and United States ideas and sentiment spread abroad by means of the cinema.

War Activities

During the war he acted as principal expert to the Foreign Office on international telegraphic propaganda, and when the British Government decided to establish the Ministry of Information he became Director of Propaganda for the whole of the Empire and the non-enemy countries. The two instruments upon which dependence was placed in carrying on propaganda were the cable and the cinema. With reference to this latter as a means of developing the Empire spirit, he gave great credit to Lord Beaverbrook, a Canadian who, he said, has done more than anyone else in England to place the cinema industry on a basis that will permit it to become an agency to spread abroad British sentiment.

Sir Roderick stated complaints were sometimes heard from overseas Dominions that not enough of news from those sections was printed in British papers. There, as here, the exigencies of space and importance of the news compared with home news, has to be considered. Reuter's, he believed, has always given a good service from Canada. But Canada, he believes, cannot afford to allow conditions at present prevailing to continue. After all, there was something more important than the financial phase of the question. The money required to secure an all-British service was of small importance compared with a sound public opinion on Empire affairs, based upon an accurate, healthful news service. So far as Reuter's Agency is concerned, Sir Roderick declared, if it could do anything to bring about a better condition in the British news service it was ready to do to its utmost.

Lengthy Service

Sir Roderick Jones entered the Reuter service twenty years ago as a junior correspondent in South Africa. In 1903 he was appointed South African editor in London. Four years later he returned to South Africa with the rank of general manager, in charge of the agency's entire organization, extending from Cape Town to the Great Lakes, and consisting of three principal distributing offices and some 200 correspondents. On the death of Baron de Reuter in 1915, he succeeded the latter as head of the agency.

Sir Roderick is charmed with his visit to Canada. In many respects, he stated, Canada and South Africa resemble one another especially as regards the magnificent distances. It is his intention, when he returns East, to meet Premier Meighen at Ottawa, and one of the matters he will discuss with the Federal Premier will be this very question of a direct British cable service between Great Britain and Canada.

The Economic Peril

In this foremost problem of filling the larder, the balance of safety between a sufficiency and starvation is getting perilously small, and can only be made up for the world as a whole by a much greater production than is visible. All the signs point to a further advance during the coming months. This is a process that is full of peril, alike in its direct application to the supply of foodstuffs and in the further reduction it means in the purchasing power of gold—increasing the difficulty of monetary adjustment. Next to more rigorous economy and larger production, which must go together, the most urgent need is that people as a whole should ponder the risks that the world is taking and individually and collectively set up the necessary restraint which can alone avert a gigantic financial and economic crisis the scale of which would compare with nothing but the armed conflict which set these unfortunate processes on foot.—Buluwayo Chronicle.

As Others See Us

The native Canadian women take very little interest in agriculture. Few of them work in the fields. To do so places them in the social group as menial servants. Yet it is nothing to a sister's discredit to be employed in the production of food. She has a certain adaptability that fits her especially for the lighter employments connected with the growing fruit. If the prejudice against her employment in these industries can be overcome, the experiment should have a fair prospect of success.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SOUTH WALES EDITOR SPEAKS OF MANY THINGS

Mr. David Davies, Who Will Address Canadian Club Tonight, Talks of Affairs of Old World

The reporter had much reason to regard the day, from his point of view, as irretrievably lost, when the genial presence of Mr. David Davies was descried in the midst of the arriving throng of Imperial Press delegates, and the day was saved. The distinguished guests had just come off the Princess Charlotte, the lobbies of the Empress Hotel were crowded with those who were hurrying to their rooms, in preparation for the motor trip to Mr. Butchart's gardens at Tod Inlet; it was an inauspicious moment to pop the eternal question of the journalistic interviewer. But Mr. Davies had time for everything. In a moment the appointment was made for the interval between the return from the motor trip and the official banquet of the evening.

Mr. Davies is to make the speech of the occasion at the dinner to the delegates to be given in the Empress Hotel this evening. He is the managing director, editor and owner of The South Wales Daily Post, Swansea, Wales. He is an old newspaperman, having been connected in one capacity or another, with several Welsh newspapers, in the last quarter of a century. At the last general election in the Old Country he stood in the Conservative interest for the Swansea constituency, against the successful candidature of Sir Alfred Mond. The coming in of a Labor candidate split the vote, but Mr. Davies was only beaten by a majority of 1,200 in a constituency of 34,000 voters, with the Labor man polling not more than 5,500 votes. Mr. Davies was born at Llanelly, South Wales, in 1862. He is to speak tonight on the "Genius of the British Race."

Mr. Davies began by saying that he could not recognize Victoria. It had grown out of knowledge, he said. He came here for a few days 22 years ago, while on his way to California. At that time he stayed at the Driard Hotel, then the principal hotel and largest building of the city. He said he had been pointed out the transformed Driard in the shape of the Spencer department store, and he found that he could not remember the place at all. It was one of the many signs of growth in a town that he could now barely recognize as the Victoria of his former visit.

Most Beautiful Place in Canada

Mr. Davies said that he had no hesitation in calling this the most beautiful part of Canada he had seen. He was fresh from his trip through the Saanich peninsula, and he was genuinely enthusiastic of his appreciation of what he had seen. He desired, he said, to express his appreciation of the fine courtesy he had been shown, and the pleasure he and his colleagues had received in the course of their visit to Mr. Butchart's gardens. It was beautiful, he said.

The trip across Canada had been a revelation to himself and his fellow members of the Imperial Press Conference. They had enjoyed every day and every mile of their trip. All the members, he said, had been impressed with the fact that Canada was a real continent. Canada, he thought, was to become the kernel of the British Empire, situated as it was between the two old worlds of Europe and Asia. There were no real limits that could be set to the possibilities of its development.

Speaking of the political situation in Great Britain, Mr. Davies began by saying that Mr. Lloyd George was in a difficult position. "He is like a circus rider astride of two horses," said Mr. Davies, "each of them with a pronounced inclination to diverge outwards, in contrary directions, and his danger is that he may fall between the two." As to the British Labor party Mr. Davies said, "Labor will poll a strong vote at the next general elections, unless the miners in the meanwhile precipitate an appeal to the country on the issue of nationalization of the coal mines. In the latter event, Lloyd George's return to power is assured, strengthened in every respect, and with a more homogenous backing. But," concluded Mr. Davies, "the existence of the coalition is precarious in any case."

The Irish Question

Mr. Davies spoke with great feeling and seriousness of the present trouble of Ireland. "We missed a great opportunity in 1916," he said. "When John Redmond made his great effort in Parliament, and Willie Redmond made the most appealing speech ever heard in the House of Commons, before he went to his patriot's death in France, that was the day of our lost opportunity to deal wisely and permanently with the Irish question. The movement was wrecked by a few reactionaries on both sides. Now it seems that the Irish problem is to revert to its old historic and hopeless status of 'everlastingly to be given up.'"

"The difficulty," continued Mr. Davies, "is not in England but in Ireland itself; and in the main is of a religious character. The Irish have been told that, short of independence, they can have any government they desire, if they will only agree among themselves as to what form it should take. So far it has been impossible to get the north and the south to agree. Only English troops stand between the antagonists of Ireland to prevent a civil war. It is only just that the world should recognise that the British people are ready to grant the Irish self-determination in any form, so long as the Protestants are safeguarded against oppression in Ireland, and the country is not made a possible jumping-off ground for the enemies of the Empire."

Mr. Davies said he was hopeful still that a rally of the moderate forces of Ireland might yet effect a settlement. The British people were weary of the Irish question, he said, and they would wholeheartedly welcome any possible settlement, so long as that settlement conformed to the two essential requirements he had indicated.

Reverting to the immediate political situation in Great Britain, Mr. Davies said that Mr. Lloyd George retained his hold on the British people. His influence with the great mass of the people was still immense. "He was still the strongest figure in British politics, and without a serious rival in the premier position.

Mr. Davies said there was no doubt that the British Labor party were very strong. He did not think the party was strong enough to undertake the government of the country; but even that depended largely on what was made the main issue of a general election. He thought that the more sagacious of the Labor leaders neither expected nor wanted to be returned to power at the next election. They were not ready to assume office, but they would be a powerful opposition to any conceivable government, Mr. Davies thought.

The Anglo-French Alliance

Speaking of the contemporary condition of Europe, Mr. Davies thought that a most exaggerated idea of the misunderstanding between Britain and France obtained in Canada. "There are inevitable differences between ourselves and France," he said, "but they are family differences. They do not affect the solidity of the real understanding between us. For weal or woe, the Anglo-French alliance is both the immediate and the future necessity for the well-being of the human race. It is a pity that the two great free Western nations of Europe cannot as yet count on becoming a triple alliance by the inclusion of the United States of America. So far as England was concerned in the Peace Conference, her policy was dominated by the desire to keep the English-speaking peoples marching together. We sacrificed all the advantages of an immediate peace with Germany in deference to the wishes of President Wilson, to realize the great idea of a League of Nations. Unhappily the United States failed to redeem the pledges offered by her President. Hence that long, dangerous and disturbing delay, which has since eventuated in much of the trouble in Europe."

As to the present Russian situation, Mr. Davies said that the Poles made a mistake in their aggressive policy of invasion. "It was the one thing needed to unite Russia," said he. "If the Russians are left to themselves to find their own political and economic salvation, it will be found that the Soviets will have but a short innings. They are superficial, not deep-rooted in the historic character of the Slavic peoples. Eventually the essential conservatism of a semi-primitive people is bound to assert itself."

Community Consciousness

The Labor movement has many noble idealists in its ranks, but the trouble at the present moment is that the extremists are displaying exactly the same faults of arrogance and selfishness which they condemn most loudly wherever they find them among capitalists. When we are told that Labor charges the churches with fostering class consciousness instead of community consciousness, we cannot but reply that there is no such intense class consciousness in the world today as that of Labor. In Russia, where this class consciousness is supreme, it is a crime to be or to have been a bourgeoise, and the employer of labor is the one person who has no vote or voice. Community consciousness is nowhere more completely ignored than in communism, as recently exemplified, where the Government of the proletariat stands revealed as a ferocious autocracy which brooks neither opposition nor criticism.—London Daily Telegraph.

President Wilson Speaks

The President's denunciation of the Soviet Government as unrepresentative, oppressive and degrading, undeniably reflects true American sentiment. Mr. Wilson does not equivocate when he says that "the existing regime in Russia is based upon the negation of every principle of honor and good faith, and every usage and convention underlying the whole principle upon which it is possible to base harmonious and trustworthy relations, whether of nations or individuals."—Providence Journal.

The "Reds" Are On The Run

The gallant struggle of the Poles to save their capital from capture has at last been crowned with success, and the Bolshevist reverse bids fair to become a rout, according to an interesting article in this week's number of THE LITERARY DIGEST, dated August 28th, on this spectacular turning of the tide of war. The Minneapolis Journal is quoted as saying that "the Bolshevik menace to Western civilization, if any, is now political," while an Eastern paper is sure that "Bolshevism has shot its bolt." The Newark Evening News asserts that the "lowering of Bolshevism's prestige will naturally be followed by reactions within Russia," and The New York World declares that "it was not merely a battle that Poland won in front of Warsaw, but the right to assume a position of equality at the peace table."

Bad Breath
IS CAUSED BY CATARRH

Canadians suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. On this account Catarrh is dangerous and should be checked at the outset.

It isn't necessary to take internal medicine to cure Catarrh. There is a far better method.

Doctors now treat Catarrh by sending a purifying, healing vapor through the breathing organs. In this way the germs of Catarrh are destroyed.

The only successful vapor treatment is CATARRHOZONE, which the patient breathes through a special inhaler to the real seat of the trouble. The rich, piney essences of Catarrhozone heal and soothe all inflamed surfaces. They effectively treat the nose, throat and lungs with a powerful antiseptic that destroys irritation at once.

Catarrhozone brings into the system the balmy air of the pine forest. It cures completely colds, coughs, catarrh, weak throat, and bronchitis.

Once tried, Catarrhozone is always used. Nothing so pleasant, so simple, so quick to relieve, so absolutely sure to permanently cure. Accept no substitute. Large size lasts two months and costs $1.00; small size 50c; sample trial size 25c; at all dealers.

POLITICAL SUPREMACY BRITISH LABOR'S AIM

Constitutional Methods Will Be Followed by Trades Unionists, Says Visiting Labor Member of Press Party

The great outstanding policy of the Labor party in Great Britain at the moment is to strive for political supremacy through political action. The labor movement was never more united on this question of parliamentary representation than it is today, was the declaration of Mr. T. E. Naylor, general secretary of the London Society of Compositors, and chairman of the London Labor Party, who is a member of the Imperial Press party which is now in the city. He has been editor of the London Typographical Journal since 1906, and wields an important influence in British labor circles.

Comparing labor conditions in Canada, as he has observed them on his trip West, and those in Great Britain, Mr. Naylor stated that as it affects the ordinary mechanic there is not much to choose between conditions here and in Great Britain. Perhaps trades union organization here is a little behind that of England, but great progress is being made here in that direction, and it looks to him as if there will be a dead heat in the race for 100 per cent organization on both sides of the Atlantic.

"The feeling is very strong among labor men in the Old Country with regard to government intervention in Russia. Rightly or wrongly, the belief has got abroad that the Government is disposed to favor any attempt that may be made to upset the present Russian Government. While not approving or endorsing in any way the Soviet system as it now obtains in Russia, the British Labor party is strongly of the opinion that Russia or any other country should be left to work out its own form of government, whatever the principle may be. The feeling is also strong on the Irish question. The Labor movement favors the granting of Dominion home rule to Ireland as the only possible way of bringing about a settled condition. Generations of coercion have failed to bring Ireland to a state of subservience to Great Britain, and the time has now surely arrived when the Government might well consider granting to Ireland the same powers now enjoyed by the self-governing Dominions. Whether or not the extreme party in Ireland would accept that remains to be seen, but the issues are so vital that British labor believes the attempt should be made."

On the point of direct action, of which so much has been heard in Canada as well as elsewhere, Mr. Naylor stated some controversy in labor circles in Britain has arisen over the policy. This policy of downing tools and bringing about a stoppage of work to force the Government into a certain line of policy is advocated by some. Although at the special Trades Union Congress he attended, just before he left England, the unions declared their willingness to stop work under certain contingencies, he did not think the bulk of the Trades Unionists favored the principle of direct action for political purposes.

"As to any prospects of a revolution, I am quite certain that feeling among the working classes in the Old Country is strongly against such a course under any circumstances whatever. As a movement we are strong for peace throughout the world, and support the League of Nations as the only means by which peace may be maintained. Further war is unthinkable, and to propose that civil war should be adopted as a means of securing our ends is revolting to our best instincts. Our line of purpose will be in the direction of securing power in the House of Commons and continuing surely on progressive lines to a realization of our ideals."

HOBART BOSWORTH in Below The Surface

A Paramount Artcraft Picture

Six sensational reels of love and adventure above and beneath the sea. Ranging from a fishing village home to a city palace of pleasure. Vivid with mystery, wreck and peril, and the most exciting underwater exploits ever shown in a motion picture.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES

VARIETY THEATRE At least one great photo-play got its origin from a Third Reader. Perhaps that statement is a trifle unfair. The fact is, however, that the Third Reader got the story from the old classic myths. It was the story of Pandora and her adventure with the forbidden box, which she opened contrary to orders and was rewarded for her curiosity by letting loose in the world the myriad of troubles which have been bothering the world ever since. The photoplay in question is "Forbidden," the latest Universal Jewel release, featuring Mrs. Charlie Chaplin (Mildred Harris), which is at the Variety Theatre. The writing of the story happened in this manner: B. V. Durling, a New York newspaper man, was calling on a noted child actor in Los Angeles for an interview. Before he finished the interview the child was called to take part in one of the scenes of a photoplay. While waiting for his return, Mr. Durling picked up a Third Reader which the boy had laid down and opened it to where a book mark had been inserted at the story of Pandora and the forbidden box.

ROYAL VICTORIA William Faversham, internationally famous actor, now starring in the new Selznick Picture, "The Man Who Lost Himself," by H. de Vere Stacpoole, will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the last time today, tells the following story about an English actor who was unfamiliar with American social distinctions: "This actor was about to be married in the United States. Being quite ignorant of the color distinctions between negroes and whites as we make them in this country, he approached the license bureau in Boston. He managed to fill in the answers to the various questions on the slip that was handed him without much difficulty until he came to the single word, 'Color?' For a moment this query threatened to floor him until he remembered that his complexion was particularly florid, so, undaunted, he answered, 'Pink.'"

DOMINION THEATRE For swift-moving, electrifying entertainment, and finished, forceful acting, nothing has come to the local screen in many weeks to approach "Alias Jimmy Valentine," starring Bert Lytell, which was seen at the Dominion Theatre last evening. From the opening scene to the final close-up, this Metro screen version of Paul Armstrong's internationally celebrated crook melodrama held its audience in a breathless tension of interest. Mr. Lytell's acting was a feature that must not be passed over without tribute to its art. Especially noticeable was the fact that this young star exhibited restraint in places where over-acting would have spoiled the illusion. This quality, coupled with a dynamic fire in the tighter moments, enhanced the play in no mean measure.

PANTAGES THEATRE Vera Burt and her Syncopated Steppers appearing as a special attraction at Pantages Theatre this week, offer just about everything there is new in the dancing line, and in a manner that is inimitable. The jazz, the corkscrew, the soft shoe movements and other forms, are presented. Gautier's Bricklayers, canine marvels who do the work of stonemasons, have been the centre of interest, and their performance is really remarkable. Usher's Quartette, four girls attired as theatre ushers, appear in a delightful song revue. Sol Berns tells some new Hebrew stories and sings some parodies. Bell and Grey perform on the tight wire, and Harris and Manion carry their audience through one of the funniest sketches in vaudeville.

PRINCESS THEATRE This is the last day of the clever comedy now being staged at the Princess Theatre. The usual matinee today promises a rare treat for the kiddies, and the grown-ups too, of course, but the small boy and girl (if they go to plays at all) should not miss "The Renovated Ranch." It's just what the doctor ordered and a sure cure for the blues. The play advertised to follow "The Renovated Ranch" is "The Spendthrift," but owing to the fact that this play was produced by the Allen Players here a few years ago, (this fact not being known until today), the management has chosen in its stead for next week, "The Cinderella Man," a comedy-drama of excellent worth and reputation. Miss Page and Mr. Aldenn have decidedly the two most lovable characters to portray which have fallen to their lot since their stay in Victoria, and "The Cinderella Man" is a play that will appeal to the hearts of young and old alike, so full of dainty humor and touching pathos is every line of the clever dialogue. Remember "The Cinderella Man," beginning Wednesday evening, September 1, at the Princess Theatre. Today's matinee and the night performance are the last chances to see "The Renovated Ranch."

HIGH KICKER OF "SO LONG LETTY" IN MONDAY'S BILL

Charlotte Greenwood, who will be well remembered for her elongated figure and high kicking in "So Long Letty," will be the offering at the Royal Victoria Theatre Monday and Tuesday, August 30 and 31, in Oliver Morosco's new musical comedy, "Linger Longer Letty."

The book of "Linger Longer Letty" is by Anna Nichols, the lyrics by Bernard Grossman, while the music is the work of a new composer, Alfred Goodman, who has supplied Miss Greenwood with some wonderful melodies.

Miss Greenwood is, of course, the central figure of the story, which concerns the troubles of Letty, one of a large family, who is made the household drudge by her society-loving sisters, until she finally rebels, goes on strike and starts out on a social rampage, that has its elements of romance.

With Miss Greenwood will appear the same excellent cast, beauty chorus and production that supported her during the long run at the Fulton Theatre, New York.

"BELOW THE SURFACE" IS STRONG STORY BUT NOT GRUESOME

The same sheer dramatic force that made "Behind the Door" a motion picture always to be remembered, lives anew in Hobart Bosworth's second Thomas H. Ince vehicle, "Below the Surface," which comes to the Variety Theatre next week.

No star is so well suited by physical prowess and natural temperament to depict strong seafaring roles as Mr. Bosworth. He served before the mast for several years. And he is a real actor.

As Martin Flint, the sturdy New England deep-sea diver, Mr. Bosworth descends to the ocean bed to rescue an imprisoned submarine, fights his way to saftey from a sinking steamer, and finally plunges to the sunken wreck without the aid of a diving suit to save his son, who is trapped on its deck.

The story, written by Luther Reed, deals with the hoodwinking of Martin Flint's son by an unscrupulous promotor and his pretty girl-companion. The youth's infatuation for the latter leads him to marry her and attempt an enterprise in which he nearly loses his life. Later she deserts him, and it is only the courage of Martin that brings happiness for his son out of the mess.

Grace Darmond, Lloyd Hughes and George Webb make effective support for Mr. Bosworth. Thomas H. Ince produced the picture for Paramount Artcraft release. It was directed by Irvin Willat.

SPECIAL MATINEE FOR CHILDREN AT COLUMBIA TODAY

Theatregoers who have watched the progress of the motion picture art are rarely surprised by new thrills in story, or startling developments in photography, but it is safe to predict that when "The Great Air Robbery," the new Universal special, starring Lieutenant O. L. Locklear, was first flashed on the local screen at the Columbia Theatre, the most sophisticated theatregoers opened their eyes a bit wider, and felt a new tingle.

"The Great Air Robbery" is the biggest achievement of the film-art of the air. Its star, Lieut. Locklear, is famous as the aviator who accomplished the feat of changing from plane to plane in mid-air, and in this production he has many opportunities to repeat this daring exploit within full view of the camera.

Charlie Chaplin in "A Day's Pleasure," and the thunderbolt serial, "Elmo The Fearless," featuring Elmo Lincoln, are the added attractions for the special matinee for children today.

FORECASTS BOOM IN FAR NORTH OF ISLAND

American Lumberman Is Enthusiastic for Port Hardy Country—Has Started Logging Over Large Area

That twelve months will see extensive commercial development in the northern part of Vancouver Island incident to the loosening of the strings on American capital with the termination of the presidential year and its unsettling uncertainty, is the confident prediction of Mr. W. G. Knox, of Seattle, secretary of the Georgia Lake Lumber Company of this city. Capital at the moment is marking time until the big question of the occupancy of the White House at Washington is settled, but when that issue is at rest a burst of financial energy is anticipated that will set the wheels of industry in motion, and the virgin possibilities of British Columbia, scarcely appreciated in our own country, are too well known across the border to escape the rush of dollars.

Mr. Knox arrived a few days ago from Port Hardy, near the extreme northern tip of the Island, where his firm started operations little more than a month ago on holdings acquired as long ago as 1910. Unbounded confidence in the future of the district is possessed by Mr. Knox and his business associates, all of whom are experienced lumbermen with lengthy experience in Oregon and Washington, where the company is also conducting operations in several localities. They consider, however, that the British Columbia field, now that the sluggishness of the war period is wearing away, surpasses anything within their reach on the American side, and are losing no time and sparing no effort to outdistance future competitors.

Mr. W. B. Frampton, of Vancouver, is the head of the company, which is backed chiefly by Seattle and Tacoma capital. The head office is in this city, the firm's business being handled through the firm of Ismay, Bolston and Grimison, Langley Street. The amount to date invested figures in the vicinity of $65,000, but with the installation of additional camps this sum will be duplicated with each added operating gang. The actual logging is being pushed at the rate of between fifty and seventy-five thousand feet per day at the present time at the Deep Creek Camp, covering an area of seven square miles at the water's edge. Much more extensive limits are held by the company further inland.

Will Erect Sawmill

The comprehensive scheme of the firm calls for the eventual construction of intercamp railways and the establishment of a large sawmill at Hardy Bay. At present, however, operations are being confined to logging only, and 2,500,000 feet are even now logged and ready for the water.

The plans of the company are at present in their infancy, and the solitary camp now on the shores of Hardy Bay will soon have counterparts further inland. The land at present being logged is part of the Goodacre tract, long in the possession of the Goodacre family of this city, and is immediately adjacent to the waterfront, a well-clad area of pulp-producing timber. The greater part of the product can be disposed of, with practically no further handling than the actual logging, to the Powell River Co. and other plants along the Coast. Costs of such operations amount to $6 per thousand, while the market price for hemlock and spruce reaches $18 per thousand. A tentative market has also been established in South America, where prices have been quoted as high as $94 per thousand for cedar logs. The company also has widespread connections along the Pacific Coast, and has no fear of the bugbear of car shortages that is said to worry the sawmills in getting rid of their cut.

Apart from the lumbering impetus, changes of a far-reaching nature are being made at Port Hardy. Locating engineers have been on the spot paving the way for the new 600-foot dock soon to be built by the Government, while the need of roads also becomes more and more evident. Development along this line is expected soon to link Hardy Bay with Port Alice, where the big paper and pulp mills of the Whalen Pulp Co. are located.

Style—Comfort—Wear

These Things are Priceless

THE name Hartt on a shoe guarantees all three.

It assures you high grade leather—so soft and pliable that it graces the foot and lends distinction to the complete apparel

It promises perfect fit and comfort.

It delivers the utmost in wear.

The value of a shoe lies not in the price you pay but in the shoe itself. The shoe that has to be discarded after short service or is worn at the expense of your appearance and comfort is a shoe you cannot afford.

Every dollar spent on a Hartt shoe is money well invested. The satisfaction it gives is lasting. It represents the utmost in appearance and comfort and its purchase is a real saving.

Every Hartt shoe carries a double guarantee—the maker's and that of an honest reliable dealer.

YARD TENDERING ON ICEBREAKER

Harbor Marine Company Will Put in Figure on Federal Job—Other Tenders Were All Too High

The Harbor Marine Company will tender on the Dominion Government icebreaker, for which bids were recently called.

When tenders were asked for, the company commenced an estimate of the work, but were told, on applying to Ottawa for further information, that it was too late to put in a figure. The bid was never sent in by the local firm, therefore, but those that did go in were all above the amount of money set aside for the construction of the icebreaker, namely, $2,000,000. The Wallace Shipyards, of North Vancouver, were the lowest.

When Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was here a few days ago, he inquired if the local yard had tendered on the icebreaker, and the circumstances were explained. He advised that a figure be put in, as the others were too high. Plans and specifications are being forwarded from Ottawa and are expected within a day or so.

CANNERS LAY FACTS BEFORE THE MINISTER

Delegation Insists That Salmon Industry Be Given Chance to Present Arguments Before New Rules Are Enforced

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27—Announcement that the future policy of the Department of Fisheries will be to consult canners and others interested in the fishing industry before any important regulations are brought into force was made today by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, when he met a delegation representing the British Columbia salmon canners. The minister said that no steps would be taken to prohibit the use of drag nets and seines until after consultation with representative organizations here.

Referring to the condition of the fishing industry on the Coast Hon. Mr. Ballantyne said it was never in a more prosperous condition and he professed the greatest admiration for the manner in which the canners are carrying on their business. Statements made to the effect that Western Coast canners hold a monopoly are utterly false, he observed emphatically.

In presenting the views of the canners, W. H. Barker pointed out that Mr. Ballantyne should have some understanding of conditions on the Coast, as his deputy, W. A. Found, makes an annual tour of the Coast to report conditions existing there.

"What is needed," said Mr. Barker, "is a better understanding between the department and persons connected with the fishing industry on the Coat. The official attitude during the past few years has made it appear to us that we are conducting our business on sufferance.

"We have been accused of holding a monopoly of the salmon canning industry, but such a thing does not exist. Keen competition between packers is evident, and many are forced to sell their product at a loss this year.

Operators Not Consulted

"Stringent regulations have been made while those engaged in the industry were not consulted. These regulations in many cases have meant a loss of thousands of dollars to the industry, as supplies are purchased a year ahead and in many cases the regulations make certain supplies useless.

"For instance, nets and seines have been purchased for the coming year, and if regulations prohibiting their use are brought into force we will be left with them on our hands. Why traps should not be used we cannot understand, and with all respect to Mr. Found we feel that we know more about the fishing business than he does, and our views should be considered as well as his."

"The Columbia River," Mr. Barker proceeded, "has been fished for the past 100 years and still it keeps up its pack in spite of the traps used there. Traps and gill nets must be used if we are to practice economy in securing the catch. By doing this the public purchase fish at a lower cost.

Hear Both Sides

"The Department should consider our interests, for they are its interests, as well as for the benefit of the fishermen. We have millions of dollars invested in plant equipment and are in the business for all time, and must consider the future of the industry. In fairness to us and to the country we should be consulted before regulations are made by the department."

H. O. Bell-Irving asked the minister if the minister was correctly reported in saying that 1920 will see the end of the use of drag seines and traps in coastal rivers and waters.

Hon. Mr. Ballantyne replied that the department was seriously considering the matter, and added that he could not be held responsible for any statements which might appear in the newspapers.

"We take it then that your mind is not made up?" Mr. Bell-Irving asked.

"Prohibition of the use of drag seines and nets is under consideration by the department," Mr. Ballantyne answered, "but no change will be made until the British Columbia canners and others connected with the fishing industry have been consulted."

DECLARES HE IS VANCOUVER'S FRIEND

Minister of Marine and Fisheries Addresses Canadian Club and Tells of Good Things in Store

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27.—Hon. C. C. Ballantyne today treated an enthusiastic joint luncheon gathering of the Canadian Club and Board of Trade to a port development speech full of optimism. He said he was Vancouver's friend and declared his faith in the future greatness of this port and terminal.

It was not his intention to speak in terms of glittering generalities, Mr. Ballantyne said, but rather to present a business talk dealing with the bright prospects of Vancouver and Canada. The Federal Government had spent many millions of dollars upon development of terminal and port facilities for the many ports he named, and as a Minister of the Government, he was sure there was great trade and future in store for all.

Vancouver occupied a unique position. Ordinarily a port first had terminal and port facilities, the trade and commerce following as a natural sequence. Vancouver's position, however, was that the trade was here, prosperity and growth were assured, but there existed a great lack of the required facilities.

Sixteen Government ships had been built or were building here at an expense of $22,000,000, he said, and all were to be left on the Pacific coast to care for the growing export trade. Shortly a line of Government ships would be placed between India and Vancouver, and no trouble need be feared in securing cargoes. Soon ships would, no doubt, be put on the run to the West Indies and Panama, and to the West Coast of Africa, all spelling more prosperity to Vancouver and the Dominion.

"You and I," he continued, "will see ships connected with the Government railways plying to the Orient from Vancouver. While the Government has not sufficient money to build the passenger ships for this, negotiations are now under way with a large Old Country firm, and when they are completed, the ships should be here not later than in a year's time, and perhaps sooner," the Minister said amid applause.

SEEKING RATINGS TO MAN NEW WARSHIPS

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—The Department of the Naval Services is making an effort to obtain a limited number of ratings to man the new ships which the Mother Country has presented to Canada and bring them to this country. Men with experience are desired, and when obtained they will be sent to England. As far as the officers of the new ships are concerned, it is understood that two-thirds of them will be Canadians and it is stated that both the destroyers will be commanded by Canadians. The cruiser will, for the time being, be under the command of an experienced British naval officer. The three vesels probably will sail for Canada early in October.

Canada's Merchant Marine

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—The Canadian Government Merchant Marine has taken over the first of the new large freight carriers built for the Government this year by the Canadian Vickers, Limited. This is the Canadian Victor, 8,000 tons gross. She is now loading for Liverpool. Next week the first freighter of the new Government line to India and the Far East, the Canadian Pioneer, will leave port.

Believed to Have Foundered

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—The Japanese steamer Tenzan Maru, chartered by the Hudson's Bay Company, which left Montevideo for Antwerp, May 17, has not been heard from and it is believed she has foundered.

The Time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

Flamingoes lose their bright colors when placed in zoological gardens.

The answer of most fat people is that exercise and dieting is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous a method to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or violent exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. One little tablet after each meal and at bedtime—as pleasant to eat as candy—will reduce your weight two, three or four pounds a week, and leave no bad results such as wrinkles or flabby skin. A good size box is sold by druggists at the reasonable price of one dollar, or if preferable they may be obtained by sending the amount to the Marmola Co., 94 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich. They will reach you by mail, prepaid, in plain, sealed cover.

Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

FISHERIES INSPECTOR DECIDES TO RETIRE

Colonel F. H. Cunningham Announces That He Will Sever Connection With Department at End of Year

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27. — Announcement of the resignation of Colonel F. H. Cunningham, chief inspector of Dominion Fisheries for British Columbia, was made this morning by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. Colonel Cunningham's resignation will take effect December 31. No successor to Colonel Cunningham has been named. The announcement was made by Hon. Mr. Ballantyne before a delegation from the British Columbia Salmon Canners' Association this morning.

Admiration for the manner Colonel Cunningham carried on his duties was emphasized by both the Minister and representatives of the canners.

"I am sorry to announce the resignation of Colonel Cunningham," said the Minister. "After thirty-eight years of faithful service with the department, he feels that he should have a well-earned rest and has asked to be relieved of his duties December 31. On his retirement the Government will appoint someone to his position whom we feel will meet with the approval of those connected with the industry here. We appreciate the excellent service he has done for his country and fishing interests. He has shown great wisdom, tact and fairness in carrying on his work," concluded Mr. Ballantyne.

W. H. Barker, president of the B. C. Packers' Association, declared those connected with the fishing industry were sorry to hear of Colonel Cunningham's retirement. "He has shown partiality to no one during his term of office and we are sorry to hear that he is leaving the department."

Colonel Cunningham thanked the Minister and Mr. Barker for their remarks and added that the thirty-eight years of service with the department made him feel that he deserved a rest.

U. S. SHIPPING BOARD MAKES ARRANGEMENTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Sale of the Government-owned fleet of steel vessels, for which bids will be opened September 1, will be confined to craft not in service on established steamship lines, it was stated tonight by Shipping Board officials. Vessels operating in berth service will not be sold except to purchasers who agree to keep them on their established routes, nor will ships at sea for which commitments have been made be disposed of unless substitutes can be provided for their operators.

Applications were approved today by the Shipping Board for construction of 16 vessels, aggregating 295,740 deadweight tons, under the provisions of the Merchant Marine Act, which permits shipowners and operators to avoid payment of excess profits taxes for ten years provided a sum equivalent to the tax is set aside yearly toward the building of new ships.

Fourteen of the vessels are tankers ordered by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, of which three, totalling 45,300 tons, are to be built at Kearney, N.J.; three, totalling 30,300 tons, at Oakland, Cal.; three totalling 20,800 tons, at Newport News, Va.; three, totalling 35,960 tons, at Vancouver, Washington, and one of 11,900 tons, at Oakland. The Pacific Mail Steamship Co. applied for one 9,800-ton tanker to be built at New York, and the Sun Company, of Philadelphia, for a 12,500-ton oil steamer for construction at Chester, Pa.

PORTLAND, Aug. 27.—The port of Portland tug Wallula was reported stormbound at Astoria today, efforts to cross the Columbia River Bar on a trip to Grays Harbor to assist the schooner Defiance, being unsuccessful. According to reports to the Merchants' Exchange here, the Defiance, from Grays Harbor to Honolulu was reported to have gone on the rocks just outside that harbor. A seventy-five mile gale was reported raging outside the Columbia Bar.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—The local wheat market was very active during the early part of the session today, and both future months made rapid gains, due to strong demand of export houses. Toward the close, when the demand had been satisfied, prices eased off. A fairly large volume of business was handled.

There were no special features in the coarse grain markets today, trading being small, with limited offerings.

Added to Dollar Fleet

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27. — The steamer Admiral Wainwright, which has been plying in the Pacific coastwise trade for the past four years, has been taken over by the Canadian Robert Dollar Co. again and is being renamed the Agnes Dollar. The vessel was formerly the Grace Dollar and was transferred to the Pacific Steamship Company in 1915, to be used in the coastwise trade. She is now on the Atlantic coast and will be here on September 28 from ports in the Gulf of Mexico.

PROFESSIONALS TAKE CHARGE OF MARKET

Selling Tactics Resumed in the Absence of Public Support—Dearer Money and Exchange Weakness Cause Depression

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The stock market today lapsed into its recent reactionary condition, professional traders resuming their aggressive selling tactics in the further absence of public support.

Leaders were nominally higher at the outset, and this advantage was extended during the first hour, but the list lost ground in the final hour, when call money rose from 7 to 10 per cent, and foreign exchange manifested heaviness.

Statements attributed to banking interests and representatives of the Federal Reserve Board, which offered little encouragement for any immediate relaxation of credits, also exerted an adverse influence over the market.

Rails provided the only manifestation of pool activity. Investment transportations also were more or less immune from the reversal of the later dealings, notably the Pacifics.

Sales amounted to 535,000 shares.

Forecasts of tomorrow's clearing house statement differed widely, but opinion inclined towards an adjustment or expansion of actual reserves from last week's sharp decline.

Convertible or underlying issues of the prominent railroads again featured the bond market, but the Liberty group and internationals continued irregular. Total sales, par value, $9,275,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.
